Censure Voted By Congolese Against Gizenga

Pro-Communist Deputy Premier Is Virtual Prisoner in Residence

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Congo Parliament by an overwhelming majority censured Antoine Gizenga today for his defiance of the central Congo government. The pro-Communist deputy premier was a virtual prisoner of U.N. and Congolese forces encircling his residence in Stanleyville.

The government announced Gizenga had agreed to end his self-imposed exile and return to Leopoldville by this Saturday after his personal bodyguard surrendered Sunday to Congolese troops. His capitulation came too late to avert the parliamentary wrath.

After a brief but angry debate, the vote in the Chamber of Deputies was 67 for the censure motion, a single vote against it, and one abstention.

The parliamentary action left the way open for Premier Cyrille Adoula to oust Gizenga from the deputy premiership he accepted last August but never actually filled.

One deputy said Gizenga's gendarmes who battled Congolese troops in Stanleyville over the weekend were in every way comparable to the foreign mercenaries fighting for President Moïse Tshombe in Katanga Province.

Nearly 300 of Gizenga's gendarmes — his military army in Stanleyville — have been disarmed and taken prisoner by central government troops a U.N. spokesman reported.

One platoon of about 25 remains to be neutralized, but they were being rounded up in the bush around Stanleyville, he added.

Up to the end of fighting yesterday 14 Congolese troops were reported killed.

U.S. Sends More Copters To Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Navy ship arrived today with two large Army helicopters and several observation planes to aid the forces of President Ngo Dinh Diem against the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

The aircraft ferry Breton, a converted carrier, also had seven jet fighters and a Neptune flying boat bomber on her deck, but these were to be taken to Yokosuka Naval Air Station in Japan, U.S. sources said.

Four jets bearing the markings of the U.S. Air Force 109th Fighter Squadron landed today at Saigon airport, but U.S. sources declined to comment on them.

The sources denied a report that the Breton had discharged a company of helicopters—about 20 aircraft and 200 men—farther up the coast of South Viet Nam on Sunday.

The Breton was the second ship loaded with planes to arrive here since South Viet Nam and the United States reached agreement last month on a major new military buildup.

The first ship, the Core, brought about 40 helicopters and 400 U.S. Army men to fly and service them. The helicopters are capable of carrying 14 men each.

The official silence blanketing the arrival of new U.S. equipment has led to wide speculation as to the numbers and types of weapons being brought into the war-torn republic.

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Two former city employees are serving 15-day jail sentences after changing their pleas from innocent to guilty of certifying false payroll records. The sentences were imposed Saturday on John (Pete) Helohrey, former building and grounds superintendent, and John Feka, a timekeeper.

Other charges against them, including larceny by trick and embezzlement, were dropped.

Space Balloon Falls Apart

Newest Plastic Ball Fails after Launch

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A huge space balloon broke apart hundreds of miles above the Atlantic today as it was inflating to the size of a 13-story building.

The breakup of the big balloon—dubbed "Big Shot"—showed several pieces of aluminum coated plastic into the ocean about 600 miles southeast of the Cape. The pieces, illuminated brilliantly by the rays of the rising sun, provided a spectacular show for observers.

The 50-pound bundle of plastic sheeting was folded neatly in a canister in the nose of a Thor rocket which blasted off at 6:06 a.m. in an experiment aimed at testing techniques for launching an advanced Echo communications satellite.

A few minutes after the launch, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the balloon had separated from the Thor and had started to inflate. But a short while later the space agency said that the balloon had split.

The reason for the failure was not immediately known. Technicians planned to study television film relayed from a camera in the Thor booster. The film recorded the 25-minute flight.

An attempt also was under way to recover a 16-mm movie camera which ejected from the Thor and parachuted into the sea. The package carrying the movie camera was sighted floating in the ocean about 200 miles northeast of San Salvador about an hour after the launching. This film would provide a clearer picture of what happened to the big sphere.

Newsmen at the Cape saw the beginning of the inflation process as the sun reflected off the gleaming surface. The balloon at first appeared as a solitary star drifting slowly upward in the dark, clear sky.

Suddenly, several other bright objects appeared to surround it. Observers thought initially that these might be parts of the rocket and the canister which carried the folded balloon.

The fragments climbed upward for approximately the intended maximum altitude of 950 miles before starting a quick descent, leaving wavy vapor trails in their wake.

"Big Shot" was to have inflated to a diameter of 135 feet, which would have made it the largest—but not the heaviest—space vehicle ever sent aloft.

NASA has a backup Thor and balloon and expects to repeat the shot as soon as today's trouble is pinpointed.

If the second shot is successful, a similar sphere will be rocketed into orbit later this year as Echo II.

Newark Unionists Ratify Contract

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Employees of the Rockwell Standard Corp. ratified Sunday by what was called a "small majority" a three-year contract offer.

President James Hodge of Locals 1037 of the United Auto Workers called the turnout, some 500 of 1,800 employees, "disappointingly small." He called the contract, providing an 18-cent package increase, the best ever offered, but said there was dissatisfaction with it in the ranks.

The old contract expired last Dec. 1, but production was continued although there were several strike threats.

This Election Year Finds GOP Stiffening against JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are tightening their lines in this election year and President Kennedy is likely to find it more difficult to scrape up needed congressional GOP votes for his new proposals.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana faced realities Sunday when he said he was counting on Republican votes to gain approval of some programs opposed by conservatives of both parties.

Mansfield noted that several key Kennedy bills would have failed in Congress last year if Republicans had not contributed from five to 13 Senate votes for them.

While some Republicans will continue to support specific Kennedy recommendations, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., said in an interview he thinks there will be more solid GOP opposition in Congress this year.

As an assistant Senate Republican leader who often lines up with the liberals, Kuchel is charged with finding out where his party colleagues stand on individual issues and with making it certain they are on hand when the roll is called.

"When we Republicans believe the President's recommendations are in the best interests of the country, we will support them," Kuchel said. "When we think the President is wrong, we will oppose his proposals and offer what we consider constructive alternatives."

"On fundamental issues, however, I think the Republicans are going to be nearly unanimous. We all want fiscal responsibility of the type that the Democrats don't always demonstrate. We are going to do everything we can to make it that the President's pledge of a balanced budget is kept."

"If I read the signs right, there will be overwhelming Republican opposition to giving the President authority to cut taxes. And we are not going to accept any farm program that delegates to the Agriculture Department what would amount to the authority to pass laws in this field."

Kuchel, who needs independent and Democratic support in his year's bid for re-election in California, was not prepared to go as far as Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in demanding a "clearly recognizable" line of demarcation between the Republicans and the Democrats.

Goldwater, a spokesman for conservatives, told the Republican National Committee conference in Oklahoma City over the weekend that the party's presidential defeat of 1960 may have come about "because we were not Republican enough."

Man Injured In Car Crash

A 63-year-old Circleville resident was admitted to Berger Hospital yesterday after he was injured in an auto accident at about 3:45 p.m. on Route 323, five miles west of London.

Wesley Nibert, 132 W. Mill St., was reported in "satisfactory" condition at noon today by hospital officials.

State Patrolmen of the London Post said the accident occurred when Nibert apparently failed to negotiate a curve on the highway and lost control of the vehicle. The car came to a halt in the ditch along the state route.

Nibert, an employee at Berger Hospital, complained of a back injury, a Patrol spokesman at the scene of the accident stated.

The auto was heavily damaged, patrolmen reported.

DiSalle Plans For Campaign

State Committee Aid To Be Shunned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said today he would run his own re-election campaign without asking financial help from state or county Democratic committees.

"I am going to run my own primary campaign," he told newsmen. "I don't have a flower fund for it and no employees have been asked to contribute in return for jobs. I think I can stumble through this."

The governor last Friday reversed his Oct. 20 statement of non-candidacy and said he would seek another four year term to work for his mental health, education and welfare programs.

He said money raised at the Democratic $100-a-plate dinner, at which more than 3,000 heard President Kennedy speak here, would not be used in the primary unless the state committee approved. DiSalle recalled that most of the Democratic committees in Ohio's 88 counties had urged him to reconsider and run.

The governor said he would establish campaign headquarters here and in Cleveland, manned by volunteers. Otherwise his plans are incomplete, he added.

He termed "rather violent" the reaction of Democrat Attorney General Mark McElroy, also a candidate for governor, to his own announcement for governor.

"So far his attack has been largely personal but I don't intend to get down to that," DiSalle said. Commenting on McElroy's criticism of DiSalle's tax program, the governor said he felt the attorney general advocated lower taxes.

"If he is for lower taxes," DiSalle said, "he ought to say it and then follow up by stating what programs he is going to reduce."

"And he ought to say it that includes cutting expenditures of the attorney general's office in the future."

DiSalle declined to elaborate on his own contention that the state could operate on a pay-as-you-go basis without a drastic increase in taxes. "There's no use in running the whole campaign today," he said with a laugh.

But he reiterated his stand against a state income tax.

Rusk Slated For Briefing Before Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk goes to Capitol Hill today to brief members of the State Foreign Relations Committee on world trouble spots. One possible subject for discussion is proposed U.S. purchase of U.N. bonds.

Rusk appears before a closed session of the committee as Congress members continue to voice their opinions of President Kennedy's proposal for authority to purchase half of a $200-million U.N. bond issue.

The 25-year, 2-per cent bonds would help pay the cost of U.N. operations in the Congo and the Middle East.

A Democrat, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, has been vocal and persistent in his opposition to the idea. Sunday a Republican, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, of Kentucky, swung behind it.

"We've committed ourselves to it. We're in it and I'll vote for it," he said of the U.N. financing plan.

But, Cooper added on a television interview—CBS—"Washington Conversation"—the United States should inform all nations it will not continue such aid unless they pay up their U.N. assessments.

Elsewhere, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., a member of the Senate committee, championed U.S. purchase of the bonds to help "clinich the Soviet Premier) Khrushchev's defeat in the Congo."

"The one biggest defeat Khrushchev has suffered in the last 10 years has been in the Congo," Gore said. "Success in the Congo, which means success in Africa, will represent our biggest victory since World War II."

U.N. To Resume Debate on Angola

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Renewed U.N. debate on Angola today puts a new strain on ties between the United States and its Atlantic ally Portugal.

The debate was the first major business as the General Assembly resumes its 16th annual session after a Christmas recess.

Asian and European diplomats said U.S. delegates had told them it hoped the 104-nation assembly would adopt a moderate, meaningful resolution that would push the Portuguese toward self-determination for Angola.

But Portugal contended that the assembly had no right to even discuss its big West African territory. It maintained that all Portuguese overseas territories are provinces, not colonies, and their control is a domestic matter outside the assembly's jurisdiction.

There was speculation that the Portuguese delegation would boycott the Angola debate as it did on a similar occasion last April. Sources in Lisbon have predicted that Portugal would quit the United Nations if the assembly censured rule over Angola.

Diplomatic sources said the United States probably would not introduce a resolution itself but would try to see that any introduced from Africa, Asia or Latin America would contribute toward (1) self-determination for Angola (2) a satisfactory settlement of the 11-month-old rebellion there.

Communist countries were reported seeking to get African delegations to put in a resolution that would (1) call on all countries to refrain from supplying Portugal with arms to use against the rebels and (2) ask the assembly's 17-nation special committee on independence for colonies to give its first attention to Angola.

Whatever the United States or the Soviet bloc might want, the 50-nation Asian-African group was expected to produce its own resolution on Angola and push it through the assembly with little or no change.

The second part of the assembly session is expected to last four to six weeks. Angola is the only question before the full assembly.

The assembly's trusteeship committee still has to set a date for ending Belgian trusteeship over the little African countries of Ruanda and Urundi. Seven officials of those countries and Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak were on hand for the discussion.

The trusteeship committee also has to deal with resolutions seeking negotiations between Britain and British Guiana on an independence date for the latter, and an inquiry whether Southern Rhodesia enjoys self-determination.

The British government announced early today it is willing to call a constitutional conference in May to discuss independence for British Guiana, a colony on the north coast of South America. Cheddi Jagan, the colony's left-wing prime minister, has been insisting on independence by May 1.

ALGIERS (AP)—In this city of death, Albatross regularly flashes an alert for Chicago. Sirens scream and police cars speed through the streets. French or Moslem terrorists have found new victims.

Albatross is the Alger police radio network. Chicago means a shooting by Moslem or European terrorists.

Every day at 6 p.m., in a half-abandoned government building guarded by five armored cars, seven half-tracks and a company of gendarmes, the day's toll of dead is read.

A young civil servant trainee puts together what is known as "the hunting board". The countrywide weekend toll just before the 11 p.m. curfew Sunday night was 48 dead, including 35 Moslems and 13 Europeans, and 116 wounded, including 68 Moslems and 48 Europeans.

At night, darkness and silence shroud the ancient Moslem Casbah that no European dares enter.

On an adjacent street, near a half-filled garbage can, an old Moslem beggar lies motionless. A steel-helmeted French soldier walks slowly by, reporting over his walkie-talkie that all is quiet. Nearby, in an officers' club, the transfer back to France of a commander is celebrated. Champagne toasts are raised.

In a brightly lit apartment near the university, carpets are rolled up while a record player blares late American tunes. Someone howls the twist and 10 European couples try to imitate the movement. The girls in bare-shouldered dresses smell of fine perfume. The jovial hosts pour champagne and whisky.

"We are winning," says one of the Frenchmen, a supporter of the right-wing Secret Army Organization. "The government has to deal with us. The rebels are finished."

Others just want to dance, to drink and to laugh as if time is running out.

20 Pct. Slash Is Foreseen

Industrial Items Included in Pact

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—The United States and common market nations will initial a sweeping agreement to cut tariffs on many industrial products Tuesday, informed sources said today.

The informants confirmed reports that cuts of about 20 percent on some industrial items are foreseen.

As to U.S. agricultural products, they will be considered in later negotiations between the United States and the European Economic Community, the formal name for the six-nation common market, these sources reported. They will involve wheat, corn and poultry.

The agreement will be initiated by Howard Peterson, special adviser to President Kennedy; and Jean Rey, member of the EEC in charge of foreign relations.

The agreement cannot become final until it is approved unanimously by the EEC council of ministers, informants said. U.S. sources said the agreement also has to go back to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade organizations in Geneva, under whose auspices the negotiations began.

A spokesman for the U.S. mission to the EEC confirmed that a meeting had been arranged between Peterson and Rey for Tuesday but said as far as they know, the meeting is not for the formal signature of any agreement.

"Everything seems to be going all right," the sources said. "Meetings of experts are taking place today to examine the last problems still pending. These meetings will continue tomorrow morning if need be."

The sources indicated that the French representatives had expressed some reservations about tariff cuts on imports of some American chemicals, but that it

Ohio Solon Raps Trading With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William H. Harsha Jr., R-Ohio, today criticized the Commerce Department for permitting continued aid and trade with some Communist countries.

The Portsmouth congressman called on President Kennedy to direct the Commerce Department to cease granting export licenses for shipments to such countries as Russia, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

"To aid and trade with these countries is to perpetuate an evil system and will assist the Communist movement to dominate and control this country," Harsha said in a statement.

David Hockersmith, acting director of the Office of Export Control in the Commerce Department, commented that export licenses for shipments to Russia and Czechoslovakia are limited to non-strategic goods, but that Yugoslavia is treated "in the same way as any other free world country."

Although Yugoslavia is a Communist country, Hockersmith said, "it is not a part of the Soviet bloc."

Harsha said "surely the Commerce Department must be aware of the fact that the goal of the international Communist movement is world domination."

He cited recent shipments of textile machinery parts to Russia, research laboratory apparatus and pharmaceutical preparations to Czechoslovakia and electron tubes to Yugoslavia.

DiSalle Plans For Campaign

State Committee Aid To Be Shunned

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said today he would run his own re-election campaign without asking financial help from state or county Democratic committees.

"I am going to run my own primary campaign," he told newsmen. "I don't have a flower fund for it and no employees have been asked to contribute in return for jobs. I think I can stumble through this."

The governor last Friday reversed his Oct. 20 statement of non-candidacy and said he would seek another four year term to work for his mental health, education and welfare programs.

He said money raised at the Democratic $100-a-plate dinner, at which more than 3,000 heard President Kennedy speak here, would not be used in the primary unless the state committee approved. DiSalle recalled that most of the Democratic committees in Ohio's 88 counties had urged him to reconsider and run.

The governor said he would establish campaign headquarters here and in Cleveland, manned by volunteers. Otherwise his plans are incomplete, he added.

He termed "rather violent" the reaction of Democrat Attorney General Mark McElroy, also a candidate for governor, to his own announcement for governor.

"So far his attack has been largely personal but I don't intend to get down to that," DiSalle said.

Commenting on McElroy's criticism of DiSalle's tax program, the governor said he felt the attorney general advocated lower taxes.

"If he is for lower taxes," DiSalle said, "he ought to say it and then follow up by stating what programs he is going to reduce."

"And he ought to say if that includes cutting expenditures of the attorney general's office in the future."

DiSalle declined to elaborate on his own contention that the state could operate on a pay-as-you-go basis without a drastic increase in taxes. "There's no use in running the whole campaign today," he said with a laugh.

But he reiterated his stand against a state income tax.

Rusk Slated For Briefing Before Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk goes to Capitol Hill today to brief members of the State Foreign Relations Committee on world trouble spots. One possible subject for discussion is proposed U.S. purchase of U.N. bonds.

Rusk appears before a closed session of the committee as Congress members continue to voice their opinions of President Kennedy's proposal for authority to purchase half of a $200-million U.N. bond issue.

The 25-year, 2-per cent bonds would help pay the cost of U.N. operations in the Congo and the Middle East.

A Democrat, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, has been vocal and persistent in his opposition to the idea. Sunday a Republican, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, of Kentucky, swung behind it.

"We've committed ourselves to it. We're in it and I'll vote for it," he said of the U.N. financing plan.

But, Cooper added on a television interview — CBS — "Washington Conversation" — the United States should inform all nations it will not continue such aid unless they pay up their U.N. assessments.

Elsewhere, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., a member of the Senate committee, championed U.S. purchase of the bonds to help "clinch" (Soviet Premier) Khrushchev's defeat in the Congo.

"The one biggest defeat Khrushchev has suffered in the last 10 years has been in the Congo," Gore said. "Success in the Congo, which means success in Africa, will represent our biggest victory since World War II."

U.N. To Resume Debate on Angola

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Renewed U.N. debate on Angola today puts a new strain on ties between the United States and its Atlantic ally Portugal.

The debate was the first major business as the General Assembly resumes its 16th annual session after a Christmas recess.

Asian and European diplomats said U.S. delegates had told them it hoped the 104-nation assembly would adopt a moderate, meaningful resolution that would push the Portuguese toward self-determination for Angola.

But Portugal contended that the assembly had no right to even discuss its big West African territory. It maintained that all Portuguese overseas territories are provinces, not colonies, and their control is a domestic matter outside the assembly's jurisdiction.

There was speculation that the Portuguese delegation would boycott the Angola debate as it did on a similar occasion last April. Sources in Lisbon have predicted that Portugal would quit the United Nations if the assembly censured rule over Angola.

Diplomatic sources said the United States probably would not introduce a resolution itself but would try to see that any introduced from Africa, Asia or Latin America would contribute toward (1) self-determination for Angola (2) a satisfactory settlement of the 11-month-old rebellion there.

Communist countries were reported seeking to get African delegations to put in a resolution that would (1) call on all countries to refrain from supplying Portugal with arms to use against the rebels and (2) ask the assembly's 17-nation special committee on independence for colonies to give its first attention to Angola.

Whatever the United States or the Soviet bloc might want, the 50-nation Asian-African group was expected to produce its own resolution on Angola and push it through the assembly with little or no change.

The second part of the assembly session is expected to last four to six weeks. Angola is the only question before the full assembly.

The assembly's trusteeship committee still has to set a date for ending Belgian trusteeship over the little African countries of Ruanda and Urundi. Seven officials of those countries and Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak were on hand for the discussion.

The trusteeship committee also has to deal with resolutions seeking negotiations between Britain and British Guiana on an independence date for the latter, and an inquiry whether Southern Rhodesia enjoys self-determination.

The British government announced early today it is willing to call a constitutional conference in May to discuss independence for British Guiana, a colony on the north coast of South America. Cheddi Jagan, the colony's left-wing prime minister, has been insisting on independence by May 1.

20 Pct. Slash Is Foreseen

Industrial Items Included in Pact

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The United States and common market nations will initial a sweeping agreement to cut tariffs on many industrial products Tuesday, informed sources said today.

The informants confirmed reports that cuts of about 20 percent on some industrial items are foreseen.

As to U.S. agricultural products, they will be considered in later negotiations between the United States and the European Economic Community, the formal name for the six-nation common market, these sources reported. They will involve wheat, corn and poultry.

The agreement will be initiated by Howard Peterson, special adviser to President Kennedy; and Jean Rey, member of the EEC in charge of foreign relations.

The agreement cannot become final until it is approved unanimously by the EEC council of ministers, informants said. U.S. sources said the agreement also has to go back to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade organizations in Geneva, under whose auspices the negotiations began.

A spokesman for the U.S. mission to the EEC confirmed that a meeting had been arranged between Peterson and Rey for Tuesday but said as far as they know, the meeting is not for the formal signature of any agreement.

"Everything seems to be going all right," the sources said. "Meetings of experts are taking place today to examine the last problems still pending. These meetings will continue tomorrow morning if need be."

The sources indicated that the French representatives had expressed some reservations about tariff cuts on imports of some American chemicals, but that it

Ohio Solon Raps Trading With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William H. Harsha Jr., R-Ohio, today criticized the Commerce Department for permitting continued aid and trade with some Communist countries.

The Portsmouth congressman called on President Kennedy to direct the Commerce Department to cease granting export licenses for shipments to such countries as Russia, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

"To aid and trade with these countries is to perpetuate an evil system and will assist the Communist movement to dominate and control this country," Harsha said in a statement.

David Hockersmith, acting director of the Office of Export Control in the Commerce Department, commented that export licenses for shipments to Russia and Czechoslovakia are limited to non-strategic goods, but that Yugoslavia is treated "in the same way as any other free world country."

Although Yugoslavia is a Communist country, Hockersmith said, "it is not a part of the Soviet bloc."

Harsha said "surely the Commerce Department must be aware of the fact that the goal of the international Communist movement is world domination."

He cited recent shipments of textile machinery parts to Russia, research laboratory apparatus and pharmaceutical preparations to Czechoslovakia and electron tubes to Yugoslavia.

Israeli Military Aids Is Sentenced as Spy

TELAVIV, Israel (AP) — A top Israeli military commentator, was sentenced Sunday to 10 years in prison for spying for an unnamed foreign power. Apparently it was the Soviet Union.

Israel Beer, found guilty after a trial held mostly in secret, reportedly had declared after his arrest that he contacted agents of the foreign power because he believed that power would some day conquer the world.

Haunted House Yields Death To Collegian

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—An excursion to a supposedly haunted house Sunday night ended in the shotgun slaying of a University of Cincinnati freshman.

Capt. Jess Dennis of the Butler County Sheriff's Office said Harry Demoret, 82, who lived alone in the 150-year-old part frame and part log house, admitted firing the two shotgun charges that killed Jack W. Langhorst, 18, of Cincinnati.

Capt. Dennis said Demoret told him he opened fire when the youth "battered through the door" and entered the house.

Butler County officials did not file any charges against Demoret because, they said, evidence indicated young Langhorst forced his way into Demoret's home.

Langhorst was in a party of 10 youths who went to the house. Langhorst's friends told deputies they met some girls at a drive-in who told them about "haunted houses" in the vicinity. They decided to visit one.

Capt. Dennis said Demoret told them he had been in bed about a half hour when he heard voices outside his home and that suddenly someone forced his way in.

Dennis quoted Demoret as saying he grabbed a shotgun which was lying beside his bed and fired one shot. It struck Langhorst in the neck and he fell across a stack of firewood. He managed to get up, however, and then was shot in the back as he ran from the house.

Hit-Skip Driver Held in 2 Deaths

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Police said charges are to be filed today against a truck driver held in connection with the hit-skip death of two Akron teenagers.

Police Capt. Woodrow Meadows said John I. Huffman, 36, the truck driver, admitted he was driving the car which hit the motorcyclist on which the boy was riding Saturday night.

Meadows quoted Huffman as saying he had been drinking and panicked after the accident because he was afraid his driver's license would be revoked. Huffman told police he recently received a five-year pin for not having any chargeable accidents.

Killed were Ernest A. Beltran, 16, and Robert Shearer Jr., 15.

Bishop Sees Harm In Aid to Schools

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Catholic bishop believes granting federal funds to public schools could cause only what he describes as a serious discrepancy between the educational standard of the two systems.

"The nation owes it to the 5.3 million children in Catholic schools that they do not receive a secondary education" Auxiliary Bishop John J. Whealon told more than 1,400 members of the 14th annual convention of the Cleveland Diocesan Union of Holy Name Societies Sunday.

He said federal aid to education was the most serious problem facing the Catholic church in this country today. He urged the men to renew their interest in the subject.

Radio Theft Probed

was hoped these objections could be met to the satisfaction of the French government.

The pact, it was understood, involves up to 20 per cent reductions on hundreds of tariffs—more by the six-nation market than by the United States.

It also was reported that an arrangement had been made for protecting U.S. farm products in trade with the market.

The agriculture problem had been the main obstacle in the 15 months of negotiations. That apparently was cleared Sunday when the Common Market hammered together a joint agriculture program.

When the deal goes through—and informants indicated it may be near the signing stage—the U.S. tariff reductions would be made under the authority already held by President Kennedy.

Such authority was granted by the 1958 enabling act of the reciprocal trade program. This is the program Kennedy wants greatly expanded to give him a freer hand in negotiating massive tariff reductions with the Common Market.

State Department officials said that one result of the agreement would be that the Common Market would lower its tariffs 20 per cent.

U.S. reductions—limited by the trade act—would be up to 20 per cent.

The agreement was worked out in Brussels with special presidential adviser Howard Paterson representing the United States in final talks with officials of the Common Market—which is made up of West Germany, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

In the Brussels meeting, the Common Market officials have been negotiating agreements for the second stage of a three-phase trade program.

Completion of the second stage after 16 days of tough horse trading smooths the way for negotiations with other European nations.

Dutch Sink Indonesian Torpedo Boat

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (AP)—An Indonesian motor torpedo boat has been sunk by Dutch warships in Dutch territorial waters off New Guinea, a navy spokesman said today.

The engagement took place when Dutch patrol vessels encountered a number of Indonesian motor torpedo boats, the navy spokesman said. He had no information on the fate of the other torpedo boats.

The Dutch news agency in The Hague said the engagement took place Sunday night.

Indonesia has threatened to seize West New Guinea by force if it cannot win the island by diplomacy, and Dutch officials report infiltration by small bands of Indonesians already has begun.

A Dutch official at Biak reported some Indonesian infiltrators have been killed in skirmishes with Dutch patrols.

The navy spokesman said patrol craft encountered the torpedo boats off the south coast near Etna Bay. This is a region within easy range of some of the eastern Indonesian islands believed used as a base for infiltrators into West New Guinea.

Car Window Cracked

George W. Adkins, 476 Dearborn Ave., reported to police yesterday that a window of his car was cracked by a boy shooting an air rifle. He said the incident happened at the railroad crossing on W. Main St.

seeking to join the trade bloc and for possible bilateral agreements with the United States.

The market's goal is a united, economic giant that could compete successfully with both the United States and the Communist bloc.

Gambling Gear Heads for Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy will preside at the destruction of about $40,000 worth of confiscated gambling equipment in Canton Tuesday.

McElroy will touch off the blaze at the rear of the Republic Steel Corp. furnace.

City Solicitor Harold Dehoff estimated the value of the dice and poker tables, 40 pinball machines and other equipment. The equipment was picked up in a raid by McElroy's staff in November 1959.

The owner, Charles Bechel, was charged with possession of gambling equipment and fined at the time. Since then the paraphernalia has been stored in a warehouse.

Euclid Man Accused As Agent for Cuba

CLEVELAND (AP)—A suburban Euclid family whose son has been charged with being an unregistered agent of Cuba has not decided yet whether to go to Miami to see him. Mrs. Dominic Shergalis said attempts to reach authorities there Sunday were in vain.

Her son, William J. Shergalis, 35, is to be arraigned today in Miami on the charge. FBI agents took him into custody Friday as he arrived in Miami aboard a plane from Jamaica. Authorities said he is accused of collecting and reporting information on Castro government political foes to Cuban officials after conferring with them in Havana in February, 1960.

Bishop Sees Harm In Aid to Schools

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Catholic bishop believes granting federal funds to public schools could cause only what he describes as a serious discrepancy between the educational standard of the two systems.

"The nation owes it to the 5.3 million children in Catholic schools that they do not receive a second-rate education," Auxiliary Bishop John J. Whealon told more than 1,400 members of the 14th annual convention of the Cleveland Diocesan Union of Holy Name Societies Sunday.

He said federal aid to education was the most serious problem facing the Catholic church in this country today. He urged the men to renew their interest in the subject.

Radio Theft Probed

Local police are continuing the investigation of the theft of a transistor radio, reported last week by the Johnston TV Service on S. Washington St. According to Patrolman William Goff, at least one suspect is due for further questioning.

was hoped these objections could be met to the satisfaction of the French government.

The pact, it was understood, involves up to 20 per cent reductions on hundreds of tariffs—more by the six-nation market than by the United States.

It also was reported that an arrangement had been made for protecting U. S. farm products in trade with the market.

The agriculture problem had been the main obstacle in the 15 months of negotiations. That apparently was cleared Sunday when the Common Market hammered together a joint agriculture program.

When the deal goes through—and informants indicated it may be near the signing stage—the U. S. tariff reductions would be made under the authority already held by President Kennedy.

Such authority was granted by the 1958 enabling act of the reciprocal trade program. This is the program Kennedy wants greatly expanded to give him a freer hand in negotiating massive tariff reductions with the Common Market.

State Department officials said that one result of the agreement would be that the Common Market would lower its tariffs 20 per cent.

U. S. reductions—limited by the trade act—would be up to 20 per cent.

The agreement was worked out in Brussels with special presidential adviser Howard Paterson representing the United States in final talks with officials of the Common Market—which is made up of West Germany, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

In the Brussels meeting, the Common Market officials have been negotiating agreements for the second stage of a three-phase trade program.

Completion of the second stage after 16 days of tough horse trading smooths the way for negotiations with other European nations.

Dutch Sink Indonesian Torpedo Boat

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (AP)—An Indonesian motor torpedo boat has been sunk by Dutch warships in Dutch territorial waters off New Guinea, a navy spokesman said today.

The engagement took place when Dutch patrol vessels encountered a number of Indonesian motor torpedo boats, the navy spokesman said. He had no information on the fate of the other torpedo boats.

The Dutch news agency in The Hague said the engagement took place Sunday night.

Indonesia has threatened to seize West New Guinea by force if it cannot win the island by diplomacy, and Dutch officials report infiltration by small bands of Indonesians already has begun.

A Dutch official at Biak reported some Indonesian infiltrators have been killed in skirmishes with Dutch patrols.

The navy spokesman said patrol craft encountered the torpedo boats off the south coast near Etna Bay. This is a region within easy range of some of the eastern Indonesian islands believed used as a base for infiltrators into West New Guinea.

Car Window Cracked

George W. Adkins, 476 Dearborn Ave., reported to police yesterday that a window of his car was cracked by a boy shooting an air rifle. He said the incident happened at the railroad crossing on W. Main St.

DiSalle-McElroy Battle Looms Strong

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—One of this century's most colorful scraps for the Democratic nomination for governor is coming up this year and you'd better believe it. State Auditor James A. Rhodes, apparently, is going to be able to sit on the sidelines enjoying every minute of a slugfest between Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Democratic Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy. While he is watching the "brethren" fight, it would appear, Rhodes can have the GOP nomination without a serious contest.

Generally, it is conceded to be a woman's prerogative to change her mind, but DiSalle also switched his position Friday from that of a non-candidate to that of an active aspirant for a second four-year term.

McElroy, apparently sensing that DiSalle intended to reverse his field, was cocked and primed with a blistering statement condemning the governor's re-entry on a battleground he deserted last Oct. 20.

The battle between DiSalle and McElroy actually was joined then and there—far less than an hour after the governor re-entered the race.

No one familiar with state politics had doubted for weeks that the two Democrats have little regard for each other. But, as of Friday, open animosity broke out and it doesn't appear likely there will be any healing of the wound between now and the primary election, May 8.

McElroy hails from Cleveland, the hometown of Ray T. Miller Sr., DiSalle's chief rival for the control of the Ohio Democratic organization, but, at least on the surface, the Cuyahoga County Matter isn't in the picture right now.

It has been McElroy's words and tactics which have been both-
Van Gogh Exhibit Draws 54,000 in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Vincent Van Gogh drew a crowd of 5,500 at the Cleveland Art Museum Sunday. It was the final day for the traveling exhibit of Van Gogh paintings and drawings which went on display Dec. 5.

Sunday's crowd brought to about 54,000 the total number of persons who saw the exhibit here.

ering DiSalle and vice versa.

The governor was openly offended when McElroy, before announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor, assured DiSalle that he would receive "top consideration" for any Ohio vacancy in the U. S. Senate—should such a vacancy develop. DiSalle thought it was an attempted "deal."

McElroy said when he announced for governor he believed the state's ends could be met through additional taxes which would be collected because of a general business upswing. That didn't go down well with DiSalle, either.

But the governor really came to a boil over McElroy's crack in the statement issued Friday: "On one subject we believe the governor is sincere! Higher Taxes! And, especially, higher taxes for those who can least afford them!"

It didn't take DiSalle long to react: "After reading the statement, I am more firmly convinced than ever that I made the correct decision today."

McElroy obviously had been put out with DiSalle's long delay in deciding whether the Oct. 20 renunciation of another bid for the governor's chair was the final decision. The attorney general accused the governor of playing coy and called his re-entry in the governor's race "fumbling and faltering."

DiSalle long has been known through the length and breadth of the land as a fast man with a wisecrack. McElroy attempted to turn this trait against the governor with the comment:

"It becomes apparent that, with (this) pixy-like sense of humor—and disdain of consequences—the governor, of his own making, will risk shattering the Democratic Party in Ohio. Perhaps we do not have his refined sense of humor; perhaps we believe that a man should be sincere in what he says."

"The Republican candidate for governor doesn't have to possess a pixy-like sense of humor to enjoy the chaos the governor has created by his re-entry into the race."

Such talk, apparently is only the beginning.

Don't anyone go away; the campaign in these next 16 weeks is going to be a pistol.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Sunday's fair, mild weather changed to rain and cooler during the night. A low pressure system approaching through the Midwest caused moist air to flow northward from the Gulf, bringing steady rainfall.

While afternoon temperatures Sunday were as high as 53 at Marietta, early morning readings today ranged from 36 at Akron to 47 at Chesapeake and Marietta.

Winds will be rather strong today, but will shift to northwest by tonight, dropping temperatures and changing the rain to snow. Snow accumulation may amount to as much as four inches in the northwestern counties, tapering off in other directions.

Low temperatures Tuesday morning will range from the upper teens into the 20s.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 37-43, normal low 22-26. Frequent day-to-day temperature changes, frequent periods of precipitation averaging about one-half inch.

NORTHERN OHIO—Temperatures will average three to five degrees above normal. Normal high 35-36, normal low 18-22. Cold Tuesday, moderating Wednesday, cold Thursday, warmer Friday and Saturday. Precipitation will average about one-half-inch with snow flurries Tuesday and rain or snow late Wednesday and Thursday.

Tax Receipts Less than 1960

Collections from prepaid sales tax receipts, as well as from the sale of automobiles, showed a considerable drop at the end of the first half of the present fiscal year in Pickaway County, according to State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson.

From July 1, 1961 through Dec. 31, 1961, prepaid tax collections amounted to $135,962.55. This represents a decrease of 9.7 per cent over the six-month period of the previous year which totaled, $150,406.79.

For the final week of 1961, prepaid sales tax collections within the county were $12,358.18 compared to $16,123.11 of the corresponding week of 1960.

Sales tax receipts of the sale of automobiles for the first half of the fiscal year in Pickaway County amounted to $76,721.31 or 8.9 per cent less than the 1960 total of $84,161.42.

4 Republicans Seek To Oppose Sen. Lausche

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, the whipping boy of many fellow Democrats, again has come up with the brass ring on the political merry-go-round.

He received President Kennedy's personal blessing for re-election at the $100 a plate birthday dinner here for Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, at that time a self-styled non-candidate.

Lausche was the only Ohioan mentioned by name in the presidential prediction for election of a Democratic governor and Buckeye members of Congress this year.

"... I believe now, that in 1962, the state of Ohio—that this state—is going to elect a Democratic governor; is going to elect, in the person of Senator Lausche, a Democratic senator, and will elect Democratic congressmen who stand for progress in Ohio and the nation," Kennedy said.

If the President had knowledge of DiSalle's political plans, he gave no sign of it. Neither did the governor. It was not until Friday that DiSalle announced he would be a candidate for a second term.

An Ohio unionist report receiving wide publicity showed Lausche aligned with the Republican majority on 67 per cent of partisan test votes tabulated in the 1961 congressional session.

By contrast, the survey credited Ohio's other Democratic senator, Stephen M. Young, with 83 per cent support of his party's position.

Young, who describes himself as "a little to the left of the middle," has two more years of his six-year term to serve.

The Ohio Information Committee composed largely of industrialists, likened the criticism to union attacks in 1950 on the late Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft, who won re-election that year by a thumping margin.

"In the case of Senator Lausche," the OIC asserted, "the union bosses unwittingly have supplied the voters of Ohio with their best standard to judge him."

Despite the vote-getting record of Lausche, Ohio's only five-term governor, four Republicans are bidding to oppose him in this year's election.

Seeking the GOP U.S. senatorial nomination are: State Sens. Charles E. Fry of Springfield and Ross Pepple of Lima, John Marshall Briley of Toledo and John S. Ballard of Akron, Summit County prosecutor.

Briley, 57, a businessman attorney, is making his first bid for public office.

He has been described as fitting the image, long held by Ohio Republican leaders, of a candidate who could appeal alike to party members and independent voters often credited with contributing to Lausche's election successes. Briley has left his job as vice president and general counsel of Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corp. and resigned as GOP state finance chairman to campaign for nomination.

"I believe that my experience as a lawyer, as a business executive and student, affords a background for understanding and useful public service in the U.S. Senate," Briley says.

"I have long urged my friends in business to participate in politics... I left my company so that I can now set the example that I have urged upon others."

The son of a railroader killed in a train wreck, Briley worked his way through school, advanced from clerk to partner in a New York law firm, joined Owens-Corning in 1952 and later directed the firm's foreign affiliates.

Although Briley is touted by friends as the man long-sought to carry the political fight to Lausche, they expect GOP State Chairman Ray C. Bliss to stick with his customary "hands off" policy in the party primary.

Circleville Jaycees At State Meeting

William A. Stout, Garden Parkway, Harold Richards, Route 2, and Jack Alkire, Route 4, attended the Ohio State Junior Chamber of Commerce All-State meeting at the Deshler-Hilton in Columbus yesterday.

Highlight of the day was a noon luncheon featuring speaker Robert Conger, president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. He spoke on the tasks of organizing and building Jaycees clubs on a local level.

The morning session was a state trustees meeting. The local representatives voted on several amendments to state by-laws and various other business.

The Marysville Jaycees was host for the event. Pattie Jobe, "Miss Central Ohio" and "Miss Heart of Ohio" was a special hostess for the day.

Fry, 45, is completing the second year of his first term in the Ohio Senate. The quiet-spoken building contractor has launched an aggressive campaign for nomination with a plea for a close look at Lausche's senatorial record.

"The seriousness of these times requires better representation for our state than that of a person who runs under one label, votes under another and helps the cause of neither," Fry asserts.

A native of Greenville, he graduated from Ohio State University and formerly was a special FBI agent.

More recently Fry challenged the Kennedy administration to tell the public of its role in India's conquest of Goa.

Cincinnati-Kentucky Bridge All Open Now

CINCINNATI (AP)—All four bridges from Cincinnati to Northern Kentucky were open again today, ending a hard five days for traffic police.

Central Bridge between Cincinnati and Newport, Ky., was reopened Sunday after repairs of cold weather damages had been completed a week ahead of schedule. The closing of the bridge Wednesday caused the worst traffic jam in the history of Cincinnati as thousands of Northern Kentuckians who work in Ohio tried to get home during the evening rush hour.

"If the Indian Prime Minister Nehru on his recent visit to Washington told President Kennedy of his plans to seize Goa, shouldn't the administration have insisted it would not stand by and do nothing?" he asked.

Pepple, a Lima merchant, is in his sixth term as state senator. He launched a quiet campaign for the U.S. senatorial nomination during the recent legislative session and already has received some county endorsements. At one point, he described published reports of his candidacy as premature but later confirmed that he wanted the nod to oppose Lausche in this year's election.

Ballard reportedly had planned to run for attorney general but later announced for the U.S. senatorial nomination.

McElroy, apparently sensing that DiSalle intended to reverse his field, was cocked and primed with a blistering statement condemning the governor's re-entry on a battleground he deserted last Oct. 20.

The battle between DiSalle and McElroy actually was joined then and there—far less than an hour after the governor re-entered the race.

No one familiar with state politics had doubted for weeks that the two Democrats have little regard for each other. But, as of Friday, open animosity broke out and it doesn't appear likely there will be any healing of the wound between now and the primary election, May 8.

McElroy hails from Cleveland, the hometown of Ray T. Miller Sr., DiSalle's chief rival for the control of the Ohio Democratic organization, but, at least on the surface, the Cuyahoga County Matter isn't in the picture right now. It has been McElroy's words and tactics which have been both-

Van Gogh Exhibit Draws 54,000 in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Vincent Van Gogh drew a crowd of 5,500 at the Cleveland Art Museum Sunday. It was the final day for the traveling exhibit of Van Gogh paintings and drawings which went on display Dec. 5.

Sunday's crowd brought to about 54,000 the total number of persons who saw the exhibit here.

ering DiSalle and vice versa.

The governor was openly offended when McElroy, before announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor, assured DiSalle that he would receive "top consideration" for any Ohio vacancy in the U. S. Senate — should such a vacancy develop. DiSalle thought it was an attempted "deal."

McElroy said when he announced for governor he believed the state's ends could be met through additional taxes which would be collected because of a general business upswing. That didn't go down well with DiSalle, either.

But the governor really came to a boil over McElroy's crack in the statement issued Friday: "On one subject we believe the governor is sincere! Higher Taxes! And, especially, higher taxes for those who can least afford them!"

It didn't take DiSalle long to react: "After reading the statement, I am more firmly convinced than ever that I made the correct decision today."

McElroy obviously had been put out with DiSalle's long delay in deciding whether the Oct. 20 renunciation of another bid for the governor's chair was the final decision. The attorney general accused the governor of playing coy and called his re-entry in the governor's race "fumbling and faltering."

DiSalle long has been known through the length and breadth of the land as a fast man with a wisecrack. McElroy attempted to turn this trait against the governor with the comment:

"It becomes apparent that, with (this) pixy-like sense of humor—and disdain of consequences—the governor, of his own making, will risk shattering the Democratic Party in Ohio. Perhaps we do not have his refined sense of humor; perhaps we believe that a man should be sincere in what he says. "The Republican candidate for governor doesn't have to possess a pixy-like sense of humor to enjoy the chaos the governor has created by his re-entry into the race."

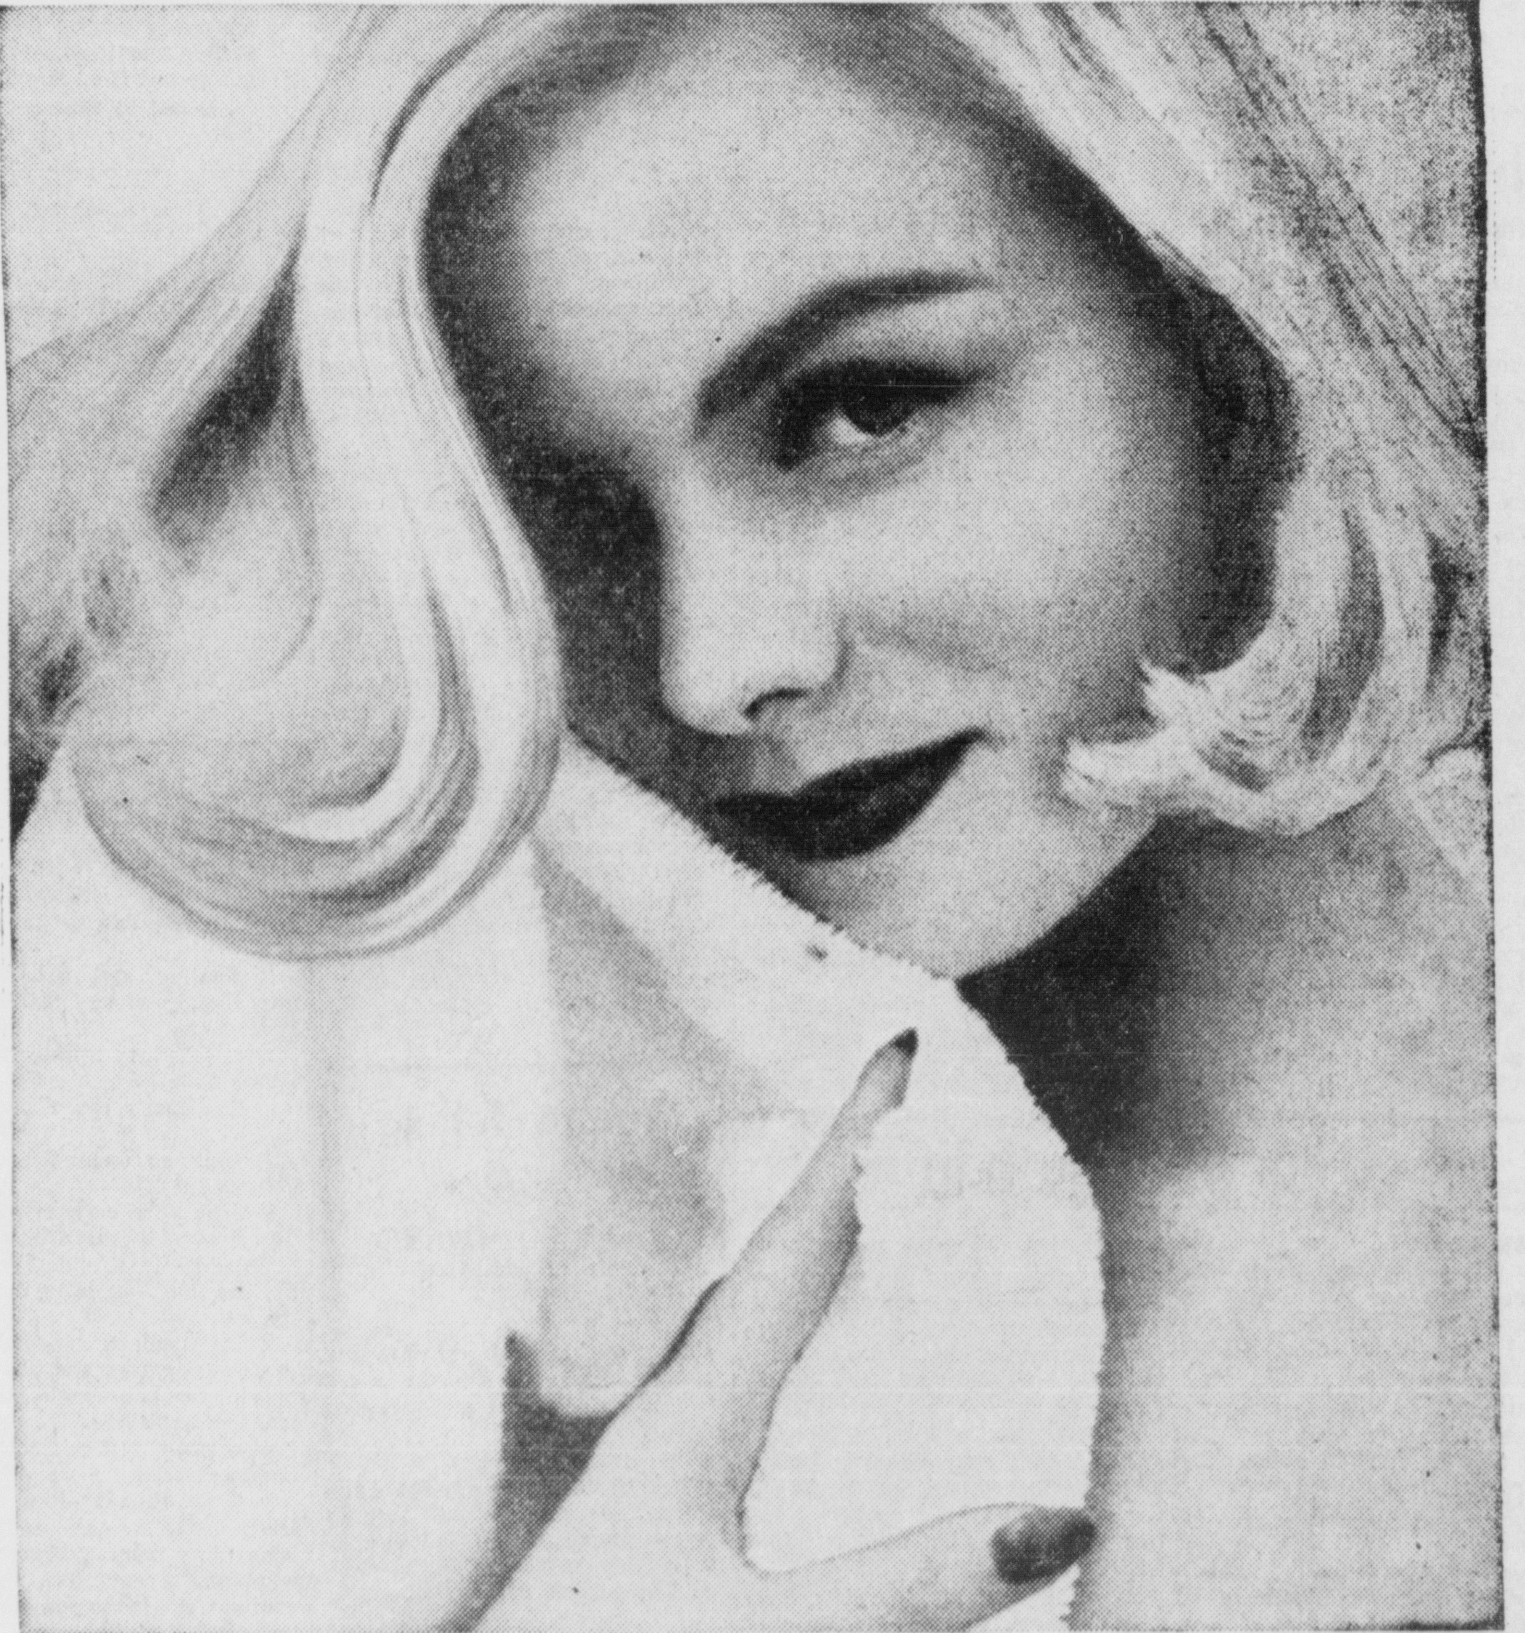

Such talk, apparently is only the beginning. Don't anyone go away; the campaign in these next 16 weeks is going to be a pistol.

Treatment vs Punishment

A leading criminologist, Alfred Schnur, has again proposed that treatment should replace punishment as the aim of our legal and penal systems. His plan has about as much chance of being put into effect as Barry Goldwater has of being elected to the Soviet presidium — but the arguments are interesting.

Schnur's plan would leave sentencing in the hands of correction specialists. Judges would be limited to determining guilt or innocence. The treatment selected would be that considered most likely to prevent repetition of criminal behavior.

When a prisoner was considered cured, or his "probabilities for lawful behavior" were at a peak, he could be released. If there appeared to be an "excessive" chance of his committing further crimes, a prisoner could be held indefinitely.

Schnur says under today's fixed sentences, a person obviously intent on further crimes must be released on a certain date, while one who may need treatment instead of punishment must be imprisoned.

Schnur is a professional criminologist, not a bleeding heart. He knows the aims of penal systems — to protect society, to deter crime, and to reform the criminal. But hindering any such rational approach to crime are the two opposing groups: those who equate punishment with deterrence and those called "do-gooders and social workers" who sometimes seem too little concerned with the protection of society, which is the first aim of courts and prisons.

Somewhere between these schools is the reasonable ground which Schnur maps out. Eventually, as man's enlightenment and progress continue, such goals and such a system will be possible. But the day seems far off.

21 Million Toothless Yanks!

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The average family spends $44 a year on dental bills. More than half the population (97 million) have dental cavities, but one out of three Americans never visits a dentist. Some 21 million have a good reason—they have no teeth.

How they got started: Joe Stalin, the Soviet Union's fallen revolutionary idol, worked in his youth as a bookkeeper and once sang a solo in honor of Czar Alexander III at a church in Tiflis in 1894.

Prosperity note: Only 10 per cent of Americans now shine their own shoes, according to a survey by a shoe polish firm.

In pre-Red China, a wealthy man classified the weather by the number of silk coats he had to wear. A hot day was a one-coat day, a chilly day a three-coat day. During a cold wave he might have to face a seven-coat or even a nine-coat day.

Gay Gotham has its gloomy side. Amid the bright lights of Manhattan, unseen by the fun-seeking crowds, 5,000 people died alone and without known relatives in 1960 and 2,000 adult bodies were unclaimed in the morgue.

Our quotable notables: "Men occasionally stumble over the truth, but most of them pick themselves up and hurry off as if nothing had happened."—Sir Winston Churchill.

Progress marches on: The ice cream industry now boasts its products come in 172 flavors but 52 per cent of us still say, "Make mine vanilla." The second favorite, chocolate, is asked for 19 per cent.

Here's why rabbits have to multiply so fast: a cottontail bunny at birth has only one chance in 20 of reaching its third birthday.

A fit tycoon: His own generation sometimes laughed at the fads Henry Ford embraced, such as his idea that munching carrots was the key to longevity but the motor magnate was as rugged as the "Tin Lizzy" he invented. At 71 he could easily chin himself five times—and beat most chubby men half his age in a 50-yard sprint.

Tip to beginning gourmets: If you want to impress your dinner guests with a good vintage imported wine, the so-called "great years" are these: 1945, 1947, 1949, 1955, 1957, 1959 and—as soon as it's available—1961.

Our wise Founding Fathers: Benjamin Franklin, that genius of all trades, was the first to urge U.S. farmers to grow soybeans, which he had seen in Europe. Few paid any attention to him then, but today soybeans are the fifth most valuable American crop.

Quips from our contemporaries: "Christmas shoppers exchanging hellos and good buys."—Catholic Digest.

Science at bay: Chemists have been able to imitate the scents of most flowers and the flavors of hundreds of foods. One goal has eluded them—the flavor and savor of a good steak. It can't be faked in the laboratory.

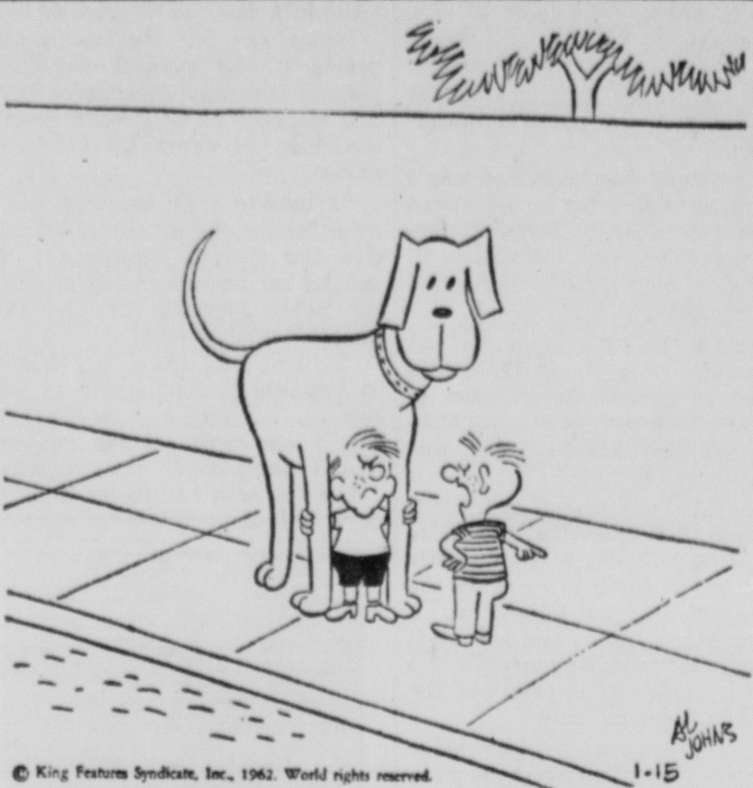

Does it annoy you when you read of people pampering their dogs and cats with items like mink jackets and costume jewelry? Their pets are probably even more bored. Francis Galton, the English scientist, once remarked, "Well-washed and well-combed pets grow dull; they miss the stimulus of fleas."

Our own high standard of living: Americans now spend about $15 billion a year on medicine, hospitals and doctors—only $1 billion less than they spend on tobacco and alcohol.

It was Kathleen Norris who observed, "Life is easier to take than you'd think; all that is necessary is to accept the impossible, do without the indispensable, and bear the intolerable."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Treasury is borrowing a billion dollars in new cash today. It shouldn't have any trouble raising the money—but it will still be embarrassed.

That new borrowing pushes the federal debt up awfully close to the $298-billion ceiling the Treasury thought would be high enough when it got the debt limit hiked temporarily at the last session of Congress. The permanent level is $285 billion and getting back to that looks well high impossible at this stage.

Worse, the Treasury fears now that it might have to go into debt in excess of $298 billion before the June 15 tax collections roll in—and possibly above $300 billion shortly before Christmas, because of the fall slack in tax receipts.

The Treasury's embarrassment is comparable to yours if your banker and other lending sources said you could borrow only so much, and you were near or at that limit. You would be wondering what to do about the expenses that vary from time to time and about any emergencies—not to mention your inability to take advantage of a bargain when it flits by.

That's what's behind the ruckus over the federal debt ceiling.

The Treasury says it can't maneuver as it should in the money market to get the best terms of interest and length of payments if it is too close to the ceiling. It also fears that expenditures, foreseen or possible in this quickly changing world, could push it tight against the ceiling, leaving it unable to borrow to pay its bills if it obeys the law.

The Treasury would like no ceiling at all. Barring that, it would like a boost shortly in the temporary ceiling, say to $300 billion, and then later to several billions above that.

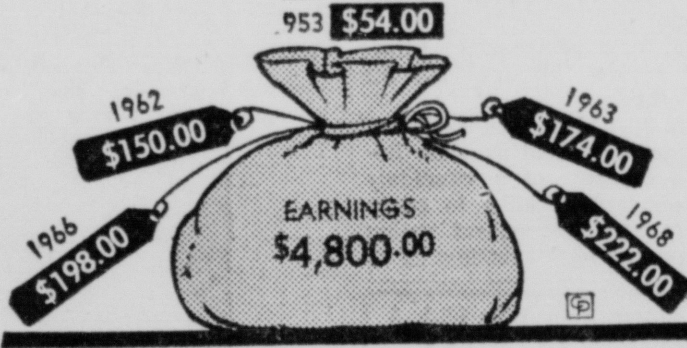

This would put the record actual debt of $300 billion during World War II. In 1946 the permanent debt ceiling was put at $275 billion, raised to $283 billion in 1958, to $285 billion in 1959. But from 1955 on, higher temporary ceilings were mostly the rule.

The argument against setting a debt ceiling, and frequently changing it, is this: Congress itself votes the appropriations and programs that set the size of the Treasury's expenditures. Congress votes the kinds and rates of taxes that provide almost all of the Treasury's receipts. If expenditures exceed collections, the Treasury borrows to pay the bills and the federal debt rises.

Congress, therefore, may set a permanent or temporary debt limit, but the actual size of the debt largely is set by the amounts Congress appropriates and the taxes it authorizes. An added factor is the terms on which the Treasury may borrow—how much total interest it pays, boosting expenditures by that much and thus adding to the debt if tax collections aren't big enough.

The Treasury thinks that if the ceiling was higher it could choose the borrowing-time and the terms more easily. Congressional conservatives think that without the ceiling the administration might be tempted to spend carelessly and then run to Congress for an appropriation to make up the deficit.

The U. S. death rate, falling since 1900, has begun to rise. Now you know what the doctor meant when he said you're as sound as a dollar.

The U. S. Public Health Service discovered the death rate increase began in 1954, but the statistics are just catching up with us. The rest of us, that is.

There's one consolation. Khrushchev said he would bury us.

The Health Service's statistics show that more than 100,000 Americans would be alive today if the death rate had continued to decline in 1961. The automobile took a lot of them, and apparently some got caught when it was the pilot's turn.

A Health Service analyst says the statistics point to "a common underlying cause for the changing death rates." Or maybe a passing trend.

You've heard about the population explosion. This is a backfire.

Letters To The Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

By this time many people have learned that our community has received an emergency hospital unit for use in the event of widespread disaster.

Although developed primarily for casualties of war, the unit may also be used in natural disaster, such as tornadoes and floods, if other facilities are not available.

This unit was requested approximately 2 years ago, but before it could be obtained, certain requirements had to be met—a suitable place for storage; selection of a tentative site for setting up when in use; approval by our local officials; and approval by the State to name a few.

The Pickaway County Registered Nurses Assn. was organized with a primary interest in Civil Defense. But efforts to promote interest in this direction have been met with a minimum of response.

Now, however, with the ever increasing threat of Communist aggression and weapons of greater destruction, many more people are becoming concerned with preparing themselves and their families for survival under conditions resulting from thermonuclear attack. Each of us, as individuals and as families, can help build a basic working preparedness program in our own community. In this way we would be helping not only ourselves, but others if that need should arise.

Such preparation, however, does not mean that we need think only in terms of approaching war—rather it could be in terms of "life insurance" for peace. Christian nations all over the world are working together for peace, but past experiences have taught that it is necessary to be ready at all times to defend our freedoms.

We have countless things to be thankful for—an abundance of food, adequate shelter, fine schools and hospitals, many social enjoyments, the basic freedoms of religion and speech and much more.

We have inherited from our forefathers a great legacy, born of faith in our God and loyalty and devotion to our country. Let's renew our faith and strengthen that loyalty on which our country was founded. Let's all work together to make our world a peaceful one.

Speech Writing Problems

By George Sokolsky

Sherman Adams, in his book, "First Hand Report," tells how he went about preparing a speech for President Eisenhower. It is said that a President has too little time to write his own speeches, that he hires men who lay down the policies of state for him. It seems a very wasteful effort, for if a man really has something to say, he ought to be able to say it. As an example, he shows how a speech was prepared on agriculture:

"I told Hall that I would see what I could do, and immediately summoned the indispensable Hauge and a few experts from the Department of Agriculture to see if we could work out a plan for a speech. In this instance we agreed to stress the contribution of the American farmer. A few days later we met again to study the first draft of the writing and decided that the slant was right but it needed better brushwork and stronger treatment. So it was agreed that I should call a farm expert in Des Moines and ask him to come and help."

Then come this shocking paragraph:

"In reparations like this, Eisenhower would not know about the plans in progress. Indeed, until an acceptable working draft had been prepared and tentative plans drawn up by myself and the staff, he would not want to know."

I found early in the game that Eisenhower expected anyone who proposed a speech to him to have the reasons for making it thoroughly thought out, a draft on paper and the trip phased into his calendar so that it did not disturb other commitments. "What is it that needs to be said?" Eisenhower would say. "I am not going out there just to listen to my tongue clatter! Hall and I and the rest of the staff learned that we had to have a finished draft in shape and in the President's hands at least two weeks before it was to be delivered so that he could put it into his desk drawer and brood over it at his leisure. The preparation usually meant days, some times weeks, of staff work."

Since, in the meantime, anything could happen to change the picture, we learned to keep our own counsel until we had plans in apple-pie order. Then Hall and I, probably with Persons and Hauge, would tell Tom Stephens that we wanted fifteen uninterrupted minutes with the President. Before such a conference took place, Hall, Persons and I would decide who was going to carry the argument. If I was chosen to take the responsibility for the project I would start out by telling Eisenhower the purpose of our appointment and ask Hall, in the example I have cited, to sum up quickly the state of affairs in the farm belt."

So, we come to the moment when Eisenhower actually sees the speech. This is the way Sherman Adams described it:

"Eisenhower would glance at the speech, read a few lines, and ask a question or two about the reasons why Hall had reported such distress with the Benson farm program. I don't believe for a minute the farmer wants the government to be his boss." Eisenhower would say, tossing the draft into his desk drawer. I knew the discussion was over and that the President wanted to mull it over.

A few days later, the President would call Hauge or myself into his office. The speech would be on his desk. "This moves along pretty well," he would say, handing back the draft, "but it seems to labor too much in trying to meet a lot of picayune criticism. After all the farmer wants to understand his role in America and in the world today. A farmer is like any other American. When he understands his responsibilities he will meet them as well or better than any other citizen. Can't we get the feel of that more into it?"

"That would mean more hour of brain-racking and writing by Hauge. Finally, Eisenhower would sit down at his desk alone and think about what he wanted to say, marking up the revised draft himself and dictating to Ann Whitman the changes he was making."

Put together, one can only say that these speeches were written by committees. I don't know how President Kennedy prepares his speeches, but I have watched Herbert Hoover do it. He writes the first draft with a yellow pencil on yellow legal paper. The speech is then typed, revised by Hoover and sent to a printer to be set. When it comes back from the printer, Hoover sends copies to friends and experts who make suggestions. He then sends a revised copy to the printer. This may go on five or six times. But he always wrote his own from beginning to end.

True. The cornerstone is laid by chemical changes in a sluggish gallbladder—a side pocket on the tiny passage from the liver to the intestine.

Extra pounds, pregnancy, the menstrual cycles and bursting red blood cells help mold the three kinds of gallstones — cholesterol, broken-down red cell coloring and mixtures.

True. Stones often nestle silently inside the gallbladder. If one keeps bile from gushing into the intestines, French fries and boiled cabbage can leave you bloated and belching. Your upper abdomen may feel sore.

True. When fat reaches the intestine. A strong squeeze may jam a stone into the gallbladder opening and trigger a grinding pain beneath the breastbone. Like heart attack pain, it bores through to the back, near the right shoulder blade.

Both conditions strike at night, a few hours after a heavy dinner.

While most abdominal troubles force you to lie still, gallstone victims writhe and twist in agony.

True. A gallstone in the liver-intestine passage dams bile back into the circulation, causing (yellow) jaundice. Without bile, intestinal contents remain clay-white. The jaundice darkens until the stone slides back into the gallbladder or down into the intestine.

True. Only a surgeon can take out a jaundice-causing stone that stays put.

Eat lots of protein and carbohydrates, but little gallbladder-squeezing fat.

You'll also need giant doses of vitamins A, D and K which travel along with fat.

But only the surgeon can guarantee a true cure. He has to snip out your stone-filled gallbladder to get you off this rocky road!

Speech Writing Problems

By George Sokolsky

Sherman Adams, in his book, "First Hand Report," tells how he went about preparing a speech for President Eisenhower. It is said that a President has too little time to write his own speeches, that he hires men who lay down the policies of state for him. It seems a very wasteful effort, for if a man really has something to say, he ought to be able to say it. As an example, he shows how a speech was prepared on agriculture:

"I told Hall that I would see what I could do, and immediately summoned the indispensable Hauge and a few experts from the Department of Agriculture to see if we could work out a plan for a speech. In this instance we agreed to steer clear of any partisan approach and work in a world peace theme stressing the contribution of the American farmer. A few days later we met again to study the first draft of the writing and decided that the slant was right but it needed better brushwork and stronger treatment. So it was agreed that I should call a farm expert in Des Moines and ask him to come and help."

Then came this shocking paragraph: "In reparations like this, Eisenhower would not know about the plans in progress. Indeed, until an acceptable working draft had been prepared and tentative plans drawn up by myself and the staff, he would not want to know."

I found early in the game that Eisenhower expected anyone who proposed a speech to him to have the reasons for making it thoroughly thought out, a draft on paper and the trip phased into his calendar so that it did not disturb other commitments. "What is it that needs to be said?" Eisenhower would say. "I am not going out there just to listen to my tongue clatter! Hall and I and the rest of the staff learned that we had to have a finished draft in shape and in the President's hands at least two weeks before it was to be delivered so that he could put it into his desk drawer and brood over it at his leisure. The preparation usually meant days, some times weeks, of staff work."

Since, in the meantime, anything could happen to change the picture, we learned to keep our own counsel until we had plans in apple-pie order. Then Hall and I, probably with Persons and Hauge, would tell Tom Stephens that we wanted fifteen uninterrupted minutes with the President. Before such a conference took place, Hall, Persons and I would decide who was going to carry the argument. If I was chosen to take the responsibility for the project I would start out by telling Eisenhower the purpose of our appointment and ask Hall, in the example I have cited, to sum up quickly the state of affairs in the farm belt."

So, we come to the moment when Eisenhower actually sees the speech. This is the way Sherman Adams described it:

"Eisenhower would glance at the speech, read a few lines, and ask a question or two about the reasons why Hall had reported such distress with the Benson farm program. I don't believe for a minute the farmer wants the government to be his boss." Eisenhower would say, tossing the draft into his desk drawer. I knew the discussion was over and that the President wanted to mull it over.

A few days later, the President would call Hauge or myself into his office. The speech would be on his desk. "This moves along pretty well," he would say, handing back the draft, "but it seems to labor too much in trying to meet a lot of picaresque criticism. After all the farmer wants to understand his role in America and in the world today. A farmer is like any other American. When he understands his responsibilities he will meet them as well or better than any other citizen. Can't we get the feel of that more into it?"

"That would mean more hour of brain-racking and writing by Hauge. Finally, Eisenhower would sit down at his desk alone and think about what he wanted to say, marking up the revised draft himself and dictating to Ann Whitman the changes he was making."

Put together, one can only say that these speeches were written by committees. I don't know how President Kennedy prepares his speeches, but I have watched Herbert Hoover do it. He writes the first draft with a yellow pencil on yellow legal paper. The speech is then typed, revised by Hoover and sent to a printer to be set. When it comes back from the printer, Hoover sends copies to friends and experts who make suggestions. He then sends a revised copy to the printer. This may go on five or six times. But he always wrote his own from beginning to end.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Treasury is borrowing a billion dollars in new cash today. It shouldn't have any trouble raising the money—but it will still be embarrassed.

That new borrowing pushes the federal debt up awfully close to the $298 billion ceiling the Treasury thought would be high enough when it got the debt limit hiked temporarily at the last session of Congress. The permanent level is $285 billion and getting back to that looks well nigh impossible at this stage.

Worse, the Treasury fears now that it might have to go into debt in excess of $298 billion before the June 15 tax collections roll in—and possibly above $300 billion shortly before Christmas, because of the fall slack in tax receipts.

The Treasury's embarrassment is comparable to yours if your banker and other lending sources said you could borrow only so much, and you were near or at that limit. You would be wondering what to do about the expenses that vary from time to time and about any emergencies—not to mention your inability to take advantage of a bargain when it flits by.

That's what's behind the ruckus over the federal debt ceiling.

The Treasury says it can't maneuver as it should in the money market to get the best terms of interest and length of payments if it is too close to the ceiling. It also fears that expenditures, foreseen or possible in this quick-changing world, could push it tight against the ceiling, leaving it unable to borrow to pay its bills if it obeys the law.

The Treasury would like no ceiling at all. Barring that, it would like a boost shortly in the temporary ceiling, say to $300 billion, and then later to several billions above that.

This would top the record actual debt of $300 billion during World War II. In 1946 the permanent debt ceiling was put at $275 billion, raised to $283 billion in 1958, to $285 billion in 1959. But from 1955 on, higher temporary ceilings were mostly the rule.

The argument against setting a debt ceiling, and frequently changing it, is this:

Congress itself votes the appropriations and programs that set the size of the Treasury's expenditures. Congress votes the kinds and rates of taxes that provide almost all of the Treasury's receipts. If expenditures exceed collections, the Treasury borrows to pay the bills and the federal debt rises.

Congress, therefore, may set a permanent or temporary debt limit, but the actual size of the debt largely is set by the amounts Congress appropriates and the taxes it authorizes. An added factor is the terms on which the Treasury may borrow—how much total interest it pays, boosting expenditures by that much and thus adding to the debt if tax collections aren't big enough.

The Treasury thinks that if the ceiling was higher it could choose the borrowing-time and the terms more easily. Congressional conservatives think that without the ceiling the administration might be tempted to spend carelessly and then run to Congress for an appropriation to make up the deficit.

The U. S. death rate, falling since 1900, has begun to rise. Now you know what the doctor meant when he said you're as sound as a dollar.

The U. S. Public Health Service discovered the death rate increase began in 1954, but the statistics are just catching up with us. The rest of us, that is.

There's one consolation. Khrushchev said he would bury us.

The Health Service's statistics show that more than 100,000 Americans would be alive today if the death rate had continued to decline in 1961. The automobile took a lot of them, and apparently some got caught when it was the pilot's time.

A Health Service analyst says the statistics point to "a common underlying cause for the changing death rates." Or maybe a passing trend.

You've heard about the population explosion. This is a backfire.

We admit a lot of us live too hurriedly. But this is getting it over with.

Letters To The Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

By this time many people have learned that our community has received an emergency hospital unit for use in the event of widespread disaster.

Although developed primarily for casualties of war, the unit may also be used in natural disaster, such as tornadoes and floods, if other facilities are not available.

This unit was requested approximately 2 years ago, but before it could be obtained, certain requirements had to be met — a suitable place for storage; selection of a tentative site for setting up when in use; approval by our local officials; and approval by the State to name a few.

The Pickaway County Registered Nurses Assn. was organized with a primary interest in Civil Defense. But efforts to promote interest in this direction have been met with a minimum of response.

Now, however, with the ever increasing threat of Communist aggression and weapons of greater destruction, many more people are becoming concerned with preparing themselves and their families for survival under conditions resulting from thermonuclear attack. Each of us, as individuals and as families, can help build a basic working preparedness program in our own community. In this way we would be helping not only ourselves, but others if that need should arise.

Such preparation, however, does not mean that we need think only in terms of approaching war — rather it could be in terms of "life insurance" for peace. Christian nations all over the world are working together for peace, but past experiences have taught that it is necessary to be ready at all times to defend our freedoms.

We have countless things to be thankful for — an abundance of food, adequate shelter, fine schools and hospitals, many social enjoyments, the basic freedoms of religion and speech and much more.

We have inherited from our forefathers a great legacy, born of faith in our God and loyalty and devotion to our country. Let's renew our faith and strengthen that loyalty on which our country was founded. Let's all work together to make our world a peaceful one.

Wide Effect Seen in New Kennedy Proposal

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy has handed Congress a far-ranging economic program which could have vital effect not only on business at home but abroad.

The President formally put forth in his State of the Union message an already known proposal that he be given wider tariff-cutting powers.

He called it "a bold new instrument of American trade policy"—a means of achieving freer commerce with the burgeoning European Common Market.

He asked that Congress grant him authority to gradually erase some tariffs and slash others by 50 per cent.

On the domestic economic front, Kennedy asked legislation for an 8 per cent investment tax credit to stimulate industrial expansion; federal aid to retrain workers put out of jobs by machines and to aid young people; strengthening of unemployment compensation; and discretionary power to cut tax rates and initiate public works spending.

The President said that while the nation economically is on "the high road of recovery and growth" steps still are needed to reduce unemployment and sustain the recovery.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg had reported earlier that unemployment in December increased by 100,000 to 4,091,000 while employment declined by 882,000 to 66,467,000.

He said the changes were about normal for this time of year and that the ratio of unemployed to the total work force remained at November's level of 6.1 per cent.

Nonagricultural employment was nearly one million above a year ago. This prompted Goldberg to say: "Our economy is again showing its capacity for growth."

Leist To Head New Plant In California

Walter C. Leist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne G. Leist, 120 1/2 W. Main St., has been named manager of the world's largest privately-owned production plant for liquid hydrogen.

Now under construction in southern California, the multi-million dollar, highly automated plant is owned by the Linde Co., a division of Union Carbide Corporation.

Leist, a 1943 graduate of Circleville High School, was born and reared in the Circleville area. He served 3 1/2 years in the Armed Forces, and was graduated from Ohio State University in 1951 with degrees of Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering and Master of Science.

The Circleville native joined Linde Co., after graduation as an engineer in the Speedway Engineering Laboratory and spent five years designing acetylene equipment in Indiana. He was transferred to the Tonawanda Laboratory in New York and later promoted and transferred to the West Coast.

Leist and his wife, the former Margaret E. Ward, also a member of the 1943 CHS graduating class, now reside in Riverside, Calif., with their three daughters.

The new plant, to be managed by Leist, will produce hydrogen gas from natural gas for distribution in specially built super-insulated, highway transport vehicles and railroad cars. Full production is scheduled for the latter part of May, 1962.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans, after several days of public soul searching in this congressional election year, are still trying to figure out where they stand and what for.

They can't find a hat to fit all of them. They are looking for a formula to beat the Democrats but they've been inept in this department over the past 30 years.

The Democrats are a divided lot, too. They sometimes give the impression of being not one party but two parties that merge on some issues and then fly apart again.

The evidence is plain enough that for most of the past 30 years the Republicans have been out of step with public thinking. Since 1932, the Republicans have held the White House for only eight years—under Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He was so popular that if he had run as a Democrat he probably would have won just as overwhelmingly, if not more so. In his case the party label hardly meant much.

The consistent test of public favor showed up in Congress where, in the 30 years since 1932, voters elected a Republican majority only twice, for a total of four years, in 1946 and 1952. In Eisenhower's last six years—including 1956 when he was re-elected—the voters gave Congress to the Democrats.

About a year ago a Republican committee began a study to see what ailed the party. At Oklahoma City last week the head of this committee, a top Ohio Republican, Ray Bliss, had gloomy news.

He told the Republican National Committee there that in the big cities Republicans were "generally outmanned, outorganized, outspent and outworked" by their Democratic and union opposition.

Bliss outlined a 19-point program for rebuilding the party.

His committee—commenting on the 1960 presidential defeat—said

"Our research indicates out of the 50 states we now have the toughest anti-gambling racketeering laws in the nation." McElroy told an audience Sunday at the St. James Literary Forum.

He said his figure was based on information supplied him by policemen and sheriff's around the state.

The legislation, which McElroy initiated, is aimed at helping local authorities battle the numbers rackets, illegal bookmaking, and gambling. Stiffer penalties for specific gambling offenses are provided in the bills.

The attorney general said the new laws do not end the responsibility of Ohio citizens. "We must promote the full utilization of the new law - enforcement weapons," he said.

McElroy, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, used a question period after his talk to hurl some verbal barbs at Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, his opponent in the primary race.

"Gov. DiSalle was his own worst enemy in trying to promote his program," McElroy said. "He called people names, lost his poise and lost his ability as a leader."

He accused the governor of not having the courage to ask for higher taxes when DiSalle felt they were needed. "Instead, he submitted a budget that asked the legislature indirectly to vote him more taxes," he said.

Democrats got tremendous majorities in 27 of the 41 big cities.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a hero to some Republicans and probably a candidate for the party's presidential nomination in 1964, said Nixon lost in 1960 because "we were not Republican enough."

But what is Republicanism? National Committee Chairman William E. Miller of New York said the party should have neither a conservative nor liberal label.

New York's GOP State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's rival for the nomination in 1964—got in his view.

"The Republican party must re-emphasize its position as a dynamic forward-looking movement with answers to the people's problems. (It) must fight being erroneously labeled as the party which is against change and new ideas," Morhouse said.

The usually happy forecasts on this year's congressional elections were given by the Bliss committee report and the Republicans' setbacks in the 1961 off-year elections blew a cool wind over the meeting.

"Gov. DiSalle was his own worst enemy in trying to promote his program," McElroy said. "He called people names, lost his poise and lost his ability as a leader."

He accused the governor of not having the courage to ask for higher taxes when DiSalle felt they were needed. "Instead, he submitted a budget that asked the legislature indirectly to vote him more taxes," he said.

Wide Effect Seen in New Kennedy Proposal

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy has handed Congress a far-ranging economic program which could have vital effect not only on business at home but abroad.

The President formally put forth in his State of the Union message an already known proposal that he be given wider tariff-cutting powers.

He called it "a bold new instrument of American trade policy"—a means of achieving freer commerce with the burgeoning European Common Market.

He asked that Congress grant him authority to gradually erase some tariffs and slash others by 50 per cent.

On the domestic economic front, Kennedy asked legislation for an 8 per cent investment tax credit to stimulate industrial expansion; federal aid to retrain workers put out of jobs by machines and to aid young people; strengthening of unemployment compensation; and discretionary power to cut tax rates and initiate public works spending.

The President said that while the nation economically is on "the high road of recovery and growth" steps still are needed to reduce unemployment and sustain the recovery.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg had reported earlier that unemployment in December increased by 100,000 to 4,091,000 while employment declined by 882,000 to 66,467,000.

He said the changes were about normal for this time of year and that the ratio of unemployed to the total work force remained at November's level of 6.1 per cent.

Nonagricultural employment was nearly one million above a year ago. This prompted Goldberg to say: "Our economy is again showing its capacity for growth."

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans, after several days of public soul searching in this congressional election year, are still trying to figure out where they stand and what for.

They can't find a hat to fit all of them. They are looking for a formula to beat the Democrats but they've been inept in this department over the past 30 years.

The Democrats are a divided lot, too. They sometimes give the impression of being not one party but two parties that merge on some issues and then fly apart again.

The evidence is plain enough that for most of the past 30 years the Republicans have been out of step with public thinking. Since 1932, the Republicans have held the White House for only eight years—under Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He was so popular that if he had run as a Democrat he probably would have won just as overwhelmingly, if not more so. In his case the party label hardly meant much.

The consistent test of public favor showed up in Congress where, in the 30 years since 1932, voters elected a Republican majority only twice, for a total of four years, in 1946 and 1952. In Eisenhower's last six years—including 1956 when he was re-elected—the voters gave Congress to the Democrats.

About a year ago a Republican committee began a study to see what ailed the party. At Oklahoma City last week the head of this committee, a top Ohio Republican, Ray Bliss, had gloomy news.

He told the Republican National Committee there that in the big cities Republicans were "generally outmanned, outorganized, outspent and outworked" by their Democratic and union opposition.

Bliss outlined a 19-point program for rebuilding the party.

His committee—commenting on the 1960 presidential defeat—said

McElroy Hails Anti-Gambling Laws of State

CLEVELAND (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy of Cleveland says new anti-gambling laws have cut illegal gambling in Ohio by 80 per cent.

"Our research indicates out of the 50 states we now have the toughest anti-gambling racketeering laws in the nation," McElroy told an audience Sunday at the St. James Literary Forum.

He said his figure was based on information supplied him by policemen and sheriff's around the state.

The legislation, which McElroy initiated, is aimed at helping local authorities battle the numbers rackets, illegal bookmaking, and gambling. Stiffer penalties for specific gambling offenses are provided in the bills.

The attorney general said the new laws do not end the responsibility of Ohio citizens. "We must promote the full utilization of the new law - enforcement weapons," he said.

McElroy, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, used a question period after his talk to hurl some verbal barbs at Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, his opponent in the primary race.

"Gov. DiSalle was his own worst enemy in trying to promote his program," McElroy said. "He called people names, lost his poise and lost his ability as a leader."

He accused the governor of not having the courage to ask for higher taxes when DiSalle felt they were needed. "Instead, he submitted a budget that asked the legislature indirectly to vote him more taxes," he said.

By James Marlow

Democrats got tremendous majorities in 27 of the 41 big cities.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a hero to some Republicans and probably a candidate for the party's presidential nomination in 1964, said Nixon lost in 1960 because "we were not Republican enough."

But what is Republicanism? National Committee Chairman William E. Miller of New York said the party should have neither a conservative nor liberal label.

New York's GOP State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's rival for the nomination in 1964—got in his view.

"The Republican party must re-emphasize its position as a dynamic forward-looking movement with answers to the people's problems. (It) must fight being erroneously labeled as the party which is against change and new ideas," Morhouse said.

The usually happy forecasts on this year's congressional elections were given by the Bliss committee-report and the Republicans' setbacks in the 1961 off-year elections blew a cool wind over the meeting.

Leist To Head New Plant In California

Walter C. Leist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne G. Leist, 120½ W. Main St., has been named manager of the world's largest privately-owned production plant for liquid hydrogen. Now under construction in southern California, the multi-million dollar, highly automated plant is owned by the Linde Co., a division of Union Carbide Corporation.

Leist, a 1943 graduate of Circleville High School, was born and reared in the Circleville area. He served 3½ years in the Armed Forces, and was graduated from Ohio State University in 1951 with degrees of Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering and Master of Science.

The Circleville native joined Linde Co., after graduation as an engineer in the Speedway Engineering Laboratory and spent five years designing acetylene equipment in Indiana. He was transferred to the Tonawanda Laboratory in New York and later promoted and transferred to the West Coast.

Leist and his wife, the former Margaret E. Ward, also a member of the 1943 CHS graduating class, now reside in Riverside, Calif., with their three daughters.

The new plant, to be managed by Leist, will produce hydrogen gas from natural gas for distribution in specially built super-insulated, highway transport vehicles and railroad cars. Full production is scheduled for the latter part of May, 1962.

las Dillon said the federal debt limit should be boosted by $2 billion by March 1 and by another $8 billion before Congress adjourns. The current limit is $298 billion.

The Federal Trade Commission ordered a halt to an alleged price-fixing conspiracy involving most U.S. manufacturers of tires and tubes.

While the 14 manufacturers and two industry trade associations didn't admit violations, they agreed to comply with the commission's order in the future.

Goldberg urged the steel companies and their workers and customers not to impair the economy with a steel strike or by stockpiling in anticipation of one.

He said that a strike "in a year promising substantial economic expansion would appreciably retard recovery and be detrimental to the national interest."

Stockpiling appeared to be picking up speed, along with current demand, as steel production during the week spurted to its highest level in 21 months. Mills turned out 2,294,000 tons of steel. This put operations near 80 per cent of capacity. An industry publication, Iron Age, predicted the rate will go up to 90 per cent in March.

Much of the business was coming from the automobile industry, which during the week built an estimated 146,000 passenger cars, compared with 121,953 the previous week and 110,828 a year ago.

Ford Motor Co. proposed a 2-for-1 split in the company's common stock and raised the dividend.

All the news wasn't good in the industry. Studebaker-Packard remained closed by a United Auto Workers Union strike. Chrysler laid off 2,600 workers indefinitely at five plants.

Stock sales during the week totaled 18,634,730 shares, compared with 15,796,810 for the previous week—reduced by the holiday to four days of trading—and 22,227,180 for the comparable week of 1961. Bond sales totaled $31,275,000 par value, compared with $24,187,000 during the four-day previous week and $35,271,100 for the comparable week of last year.

Optimism was dominant as representatives of the nation's storekeepers gathered in New York City for the convention of the National Retail Merchants Association.

A survey of a portion of the membership indicated they expect on the average that prices and profits will rise about 5 per cent in the first half of 1962.

Because of an unexpected decline in December, retail sales apparently didn't set a record in 1961, the Commerce Department reported. The year's sales were estimated at $219.1 billion, down $384 million from 1960, the record year. However, Christmas sales by department stores were the highest ever.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

There's Always a Solution!

DEAR ABBY: Every Christmas my husband gets an 18- or 20-pound turkey from his boss. Our problem is that neither my husband nor I care for turkey that much and there are just the two of us. Once I roast it we have to eat it up and you know how sick you can get of turkey after a while. We aren't so well off that we can throw or give it away. Would it be all right to sell it? That doesn't seem right somehow.

DEAR TROUBLED: Don't sell it. Why not roast it and invite some friends in? Or cook it and freeze what you don't eat. Or get a cook book and discover how many ways there are to fix turkey. There's turkey salad, turkey soup, turkey hash, creamed turkey, stewed turkey and cold turkey. If you prepare it properly, you'll gobble it up in no time.

DEAR ABBY: My parents won't let me do The Twist as they say it causes heart attacks. Is this true?

DEAR TWISTER: For those doing it, or those watching it?

DEAR ABBY: I read in a horoscope magazine that people who are born under different signs don't get along with each other. I think that's the trouble with my mother and me. She is very bossy and crabby and is always asking me a million questions. She complains a lot that she doesn't feel good, but I'm sure it's just an act she puts on to get sympathy. She is more strict with me than any of my friends' mothers are with them. She forces me to go to Sunday school and take piano lessons. I am 14 and am treated like a baby. Is what the horoscope magazine said true? And what does the future hold for me?

DEAR FOURTEEN: Since you are old enough to read, may I suggest a very good book? The Bible. I don't know what the future holds for you, but it will hold much more if you will honor your mother.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "OLD ENOUGH TO VOTE": And you are old enough to know better. Leave him alone. He's still married.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby, care of this paper.

Interchurch-Interracial Meet Sponsored by WSWs

The WSWs of the First EUB Church held an interchurch-interracial meeting Thursday evening in the Service Center of the church. Mrs. O. F. Gibbs and Mrs. Roy Groce served on the hospitality committee who welcomed the 23 members and 42 guests attending.

Mrs. Howard Conley, president, presided at the business meeting. She began the session with group singing and welcomed those attending from various churches in the area. Mrs. Conley then presented a short meditation. She announced that Feb. 4 was the date set for "World Service Day". The business meeting was closed with a prayer given by the Rev. O. F. Gibbs.

Mrs. Clarence Radcliff, program leader, conducted a study period on the topic "Latin America". She read a Scripture passage and gave a commentary on the study topic.

Mrs. Robert Dumm suggested several books that the ladies might read to further their knowledge on Latin America.

Mrs. Woodrow Carley and Miss Phyllis Hawkes presented a vocal duet.

Miss Mary Johnson, Circleville Bible College teacher and former missionary to India, was guest speaker. She gave a detailed report on living conditions in Latin America and stressed the need for educational and spiritual schools in that country. She also discussed the problems facing teachers there.

Mrs. Alvin Perdion sang a prayer to close the program.

Mrs. James Pierce and Miss Lucille Kirkwood were accompanists for the musical selections of the evening.

Miss Gladys Noggle offered grace preceding the social hour. Cookies and punch were served from a refreshment table decorated in a springtime theme of orchid and crystal. Officers of the society served as hostesses for the refreshment hour.

First EUB Ruth Circle Holds Meeting

Members of the Ruth Circle of the First EUB Church met recently for a regular meeting in the Service Center of the church.

Mrs. Mary Ann Willoughby conducted the devotional period. She opened with the Lord's Prayer and group singing of "Send the Light" and "Whispering Hope". Favorite passages from the Bible were given by Mrs. Carrie Ater, Mrs. Kelly Alderman, Mrs. Frank Hawkes, Mrs. Russell Hixon and Mrs. Willoughby. Mrs. Catherine Martin offered prayer to close devotions.

Mrs. Willoughby presided at the business session.

Mrs. Martin was in charge of the program which featured readings by Mrs. Hawkes, Mrs. Alderman and Mrs. Earl Radcliff.

Contests were enjoyed during the social hour and contest winners were Mrs. Hawkes and Mrs. Willoughby.

A salad course was served to 11 members and two guests by Mrs. Marie Goodman and Mrs. George Ankrom and Mrs. Clifford Davis.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Subtle Sophistication Keys French Designer Collection

CHIC SATIN binding outlines the bolero and accents the bodice of an easy-fit black wool cocktail-dinner dress.

By SUSAN BARDEN

Louis Feraud, famed for dressing young Parisienne sophisticates, is a new addition to the American scene. He has created an exclusive collection of coats, suits and little wool dresses as well as a dazzling array of cocktail and evening excitements expressly for our own younger set.

Outstanding designer of the intriguing Petite Couture of Paris, with its accent on youth, verve and creativity, M. Feraud recently came to the United States to present his brilliant mid-season collection created in Paris and made under his careful supervision.

A superb, understated chic characterizes his widely acclaimed individualistic style. Silhouettes were strikingly simple, gracefully fluent and radiantly youthful in easy, relaxed lines, precision-executed details and supple fabrics.

There were three-piece suits for afternoon-on-to-dinner wear. Many of the dresses were designed with short relaxed skirts.

For the cocktail hour, much black was apparent and it looked most appropriate because of the youthfulness of the silhouettes. The majority of these were sleeveless, some with dashing, square necklines, others with bateau or jewel necklines. When the arms were bare, M. Feraud usually added matching boleros or short little jackets for cover-up when desired.

The trend toward a modern version of the Empire line was evident in high-rise midriffs. Some were designated by belts or sashes just below the bust, others by intricate horizontal seaming strategically worked in the same place.

Salem WSCS Has Meeting

The Salem WSCS met recently in the home of Mrs. Ira Barr, Route 1, Mrs. Marvin Konkle and Mrs. Alva Dyer were assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Fairy Alkire vice president, led the devotional period on the theme "Make This a Better World O God". The scripture was read from Matthew 7:15-20.

The group sang "Take My Life and Let It Be" and "Once to Every Man and Nation." Mrs. Alkire led the group in prayer and the devotional period was closed with group singing of "Hear our Prayer, O Lord".

Mrs. Ira Barr, president, presided at a short business meeting. Ten sick calls were reported by the group. It was announced that the society will send a donation to Mrs. Alice Broadus, a missionary in Hong Kong and the mother of Mrs. Marvin Konkle.

Refreshments were served to 23 members and one guest, Mrs. Ronald Dreisbach.

Interchurch-Interracial Meet Sponsored by WSWS

The WSWS of the First EUB Church held an interchurch-interracial meeting Thursday evening in the Service Center of the church. Mrs. O. F. Gibbs and Mrs. Roy Groce served on the hospitality committee who welcomed the 23 members and 42 guests attending.

Mrs. Howard Conley, president, presided at the business meeting. She began the session with group singing and welcomed those attending from various churches in the area. Mrs. Conley then presented a short meditation. She announced that Feb. 4 was the date set for "World Service Day". The business meeting was closed with a prayer given by the Rev. O. F. Gibbs.

Mrs. Clarence Radcliff, program leader, conducted a study period on the topic "Latin America". She read a Scripture passage and gave a commentary on the study topic.

Mrs. Robert Dumm suggested several books that the ladies might read to further their knowledge on Latin America.

Mrs. Woodrow Carley and Miss Phyllis Hawkes presented a vocal duet.

Miss Mary Johnson, Circleville Bible College teacher and former missionary to India, was guest speaker. She gave a detailed report on living conditions in Latin America and stressed the need for educational and spiritual schools

Salem WSCS Has Meeting

The Salem WSCS met recently in the home of Mrs. Ira Barr, Route 1. Mrs. Marvin Konkle and Mrs. Alva Dyer were assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Fairy Alkire vice president, led the devotional period on the theme "Make This a Better World O God". The scripture was read from Matthew 7:15-20.

The group sang "Take My Life and Let It Be" and "Once to Every Man and Nation." Mrs. Alkire led the group in prayer and the devotional period was closed with group singing of "Hear our Prayer, O Lord".

Mrs. Ira Barr, president, presided at a short business meeting. Ten sick calls were reported by the group. It was announced that the society will send a donation to Mrs. Alice Broadbuss, a missionary in Hong Kong and the mother of Mrs. Marvin Konkle.

Refreshments were served to 23 members and one guest, Mrs. Ronald Dreisbach.

Subtle Sophistication Keys French Designer Collection

CHIC SATIN binding outlines the bolero and accents the bodice of an easy-fit black wool cocktail-to-dinner dress.

By SUSAN BARDEN

Louis Feraud, famed for dressing young Parisienne sophisticates, is a new addition to the American scene. He has created an exclusive collection of coats, suits and little wool dresses as well as a dazzling array of cocktail and evening excitements expressly for our own younger set.

Outstanding designer of the intriguing Petite Couture of Paris, with its accent on youth, verve and creativity, M. Feraud recently came to the United States to present his brilliant mid-season collection created in Paris and made under his careful supervision.

A superb, understated chic characterizes his widely acclaimed individualistic style. Silhouettes were strikingly simple, gracefully fluent and radiantly youthful in easy, relaxed lines, precision-executed details and supple fabrics.

There were three-piece suits for afternoon-on-to-dinner wear. Many of the dresses were designed with short relaxed skirts.

For the cocktail hour, much black was apparent and it looked most appropriate because of the youthfulness of the silhouettes. The majority of these were sleeveless, some with dashing, square necklines, others with bateau or jewel necklines. When the arms were bare, M. Feraud usually added matching boleros or short little jackets for cover-up when desired.

The trend toward a modern version of the Empire line was evident in high-rise midriffs. Some were designated by belts or sashes just below the bust, others by intricate horizontal seaming strategically worked in the same place.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. George Fissell, 705 N. Pickaway St., have returned to their home after spending more than three weeks as guests of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Harden and children, Mary Ann and Ned, Fullerton, Calif.

Mrs. Eugene J. Stucker, 568 Woodland Drive, has received word that her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ronald E. Stucker, has been granted a certificate to practice as a registered nurse. Mrs. Stucker, a graduate of the Miami Valley Hospital School of Nursing in Dayton, is affiliated with Doctors Hospital, Seattle, Wash. Lt. Ronald E. Stucker, chief of military personnel with the Adjutant General Corp., Fort Lawton, Seattle, Wash., has enrolled as a graduate student in Spanish at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Variety Club Of Deercreek Holds Meeting

Mrs. Howard Stauffer presided during the business session of the Deercreek Variety Club when it met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Paul Dawson, Route 1, Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. William Easterday gave the secretary-treasurer reports and collected pennies for the friendship fund.

Mrs. Stauffer gave a report on the recent Home Demonstration Council meeting and noted that the club needed to place more emphasis on study material provided through the Pickaway County Extension Agent, Mrs. Kileen Wright.

She also announced a county wide meeting at 8 p. m. Feb. 7 in the new building at the fairgrounds. "Landscaping" will be the topic discussed by Mr. Marvin Carboneau, a noted authority on the subject.

Members were reminded that dues should be paid at this time to the treasurer, Mrs. Easterday.

Several members displayed articles of cross stitch work and huck towel embroidery and discussed the work with other members present.

Mrs. Omer Lemming and Mrs. Easterday will attend the leader-training meeting on Feb. 13. Topic will be "Money Rolling Away In Credit."

Chilli Romps in Second Half To Turn Back Tigers 83-66

By RON COFFMAN
The second half should never have come around as far as Circleville High School's Tigers were concerned Saturday night.

Coach Jack Weikert's Red and Black cage outfit, ahead 41-35 at intermission, skidded to their seventh defeat in 10 games as Chillothe's Cavaliers brushed past them 83-66 on the strength of a 48-point spurge in the final two quarters.

Effects of rugged Friday night bouts told on both squads. Chillothe, now 5-4 on the season, had sweated out a 68-59 decision over Lancaster's Golden Gales. Circleville was dog-tired after taking the measure of South Central Loop foe Pleasant View in a last-second thriller, 69-68.

The Cavaliers hit a cool 32 per cent from the floor, popping in 27 of 79 field goals. Circleville led in this column, collecting 25 of 67 for 37 per cent.

A 13-TALLY Chillothe spread at the free throw line made most of the difference, though as coach Dick Dolan's charges made the nets hum with a robust 29 of 35 for 83 per cent. The Tigers produced

Trucker To Lead U.S. Ski Team

WESTBY, Wis. (AP)—A high-flying truck driver, who overcame a bad start to soar to a North American ski jumping record, will lead the United States team when it goes to Poland in quest of world honors next month.

John Balfanz, 21, of Minneapolis, leaped 317 feet—a foot over the old mark—in claiming his record Sunday and taking the top place on the four-man U.S. team. It will compete in the world ski jumping meet at Zakopane, Poland, Feb. 18-25.

Others on the team, in their jumping order, will be Robert Keck of Oconomowoc, Wis.; Steve Reischl of Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Jim Brennan of Edmonds, Wash.

Jacobs Leads Pros To Crosby Test

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—There's nothing like money to boost a golfer's morale, so it was a happy Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., who led the way today to the Bing Crosby clambake after winning the $25,000 San Diego Open.

Jacobs, whose last good win was at Denver in 1958, pocketed $3,500 as the winner of a dramatic sudden death playoff with another young tournament pro, Johnny Pott of Ocean Springs, Miss.

Both are 26, both are ex-collegians—Jacobs from Southern California, Pott from Louisiana State. Jacobs shot a final-round 65, six under par for 277, and finished early. Pott, in a better position at the start of the day, scored 69 for 277.

Wilt Nets 135 Points In 17-Hour Interval

BOSTON (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, the human scoring machine, is playing the best basketball of his record-smashing career. The opinion is unanimous.

The Philadelphia Warrior giant tallied 135 points in less than 17 hours during a busy National Basketball Association weekend. Chamberlain bettered the regulation game mark with 73 points against Chicago Saturday night in a 135-117 victory.

but 16 of 26 for 62 per cent. Spearheading the Chillothe thrust was husky senior Willard Seekatz. The 6'11" pivot ace poured in all 10 of his charity tosses plus six baskets for 22 counters. Junior John Glanton hit 21 tallies on nine buckets and three of four shots while Jim Hess put in 15 and Dave Mischal notched 11.

About all the Bengals big scoring was confined to Dick Kline, who kept Circleville in the game through much of the opening with 14 of his 18 markers, including the Tiger's first four. Garold Dade, Jim Wellington and Freddie Moore ticked off nine apiece.

Center Sam Weller and forward Clesson Thomas, who accounted for 38 Tiger tallies against Chillothe, Weller, ineffective under the boards, got only five and Thomas, eight.

A stubborn Cavalier defense got much of the credit for halting Circleville as most of the time the Tigers were forced to work hastily from far outside. Rarely did the home squad pose a serious threat on rebounding as Chillothe's four plus-six-foot starters dominated the boards.

But all in all, the winners simply had the horses to bounce back in the third and fourth periods. Circleville did not.

IN A sluggish initial quarter which produced six ties and a lot of loose play the Tigers broke away near the end on two-pointers by Dade, Thomas and Wellington plus a foul shot to hold a 22-15 margin entering the second stanza.

Wellington and Dade, working the guard posts, maintained a steady pressure on the Chillothe outside men that broke up most of the Cavalier's early tally tries. On six occasions early in the second quarter Chillothe surrendered the ball on bad passes, most of them aimed toward the inner-key area.

At the period's halfway point Kline upped the Circleville advantage to 30-23 on a layup accomplished with the greatest ease after a long pass put him a half-court ahead of his nearest defender. Dade tried the same thing seconds later and netted two foul success and a nine-point Tiger lead for his efforts.

Chillothe couldn't get rolling and Seekatz was still cold as the half ended with the hosts 41-35 to the good.

Then what shouldn't have happened did.

A long jumper by Seekatz boosted Chillothe to a 46-45 lead with 3:20 to go in the third canto as the Tigers mustered only four points through half a quarter marked by much shooting and little success. Thomas picked up his fourth personal foul as Seekatz shot the Ross Countian's lead to 47-45.

DAVE HANNAHS, getting his first scoring opportunity of the night, evened the count as 50 - all with a quick layup in the last 40 seconds and Moore got in a short jump at the buzzer to prop up Circleville's sagging fortunes, 53-52, going into the wrapup eight minutes.

From then on, though, it was the Cavaliers all the way. Seekatz and Glanton took turns shoving the Chilly victory margin upward as Circleville registered but two points — a rebound tip by Kline — in the first three minutes. Wellington fouled out as Seekatz pushed through two charity tosses to make it 70-57 for the winners at the four-minute mark.

Moore, developing a reputation as a professional hardcourt thief, stole the ball and passed off to Dade for the Tiger's only tally while Chillothe was making it 76-59. Thomas took to the bench via the five-foul route, too as the score went to 80-60.

Against a whole new unit of subs, Circleville outscored their guests 6-3 in the last two minutes. Next varsity action for the Tigers is an SCOTL test Friday at Hillsboro.

The Bengal reserves failed to fare much better, dropping behind after staying within two points of the Cavaliers most of the way to lose by nine, 56-47.

Campbell stripped the nets for 23 counters, tops for Chillothe. Tom Smith notched another capable performance for the Tigers, hitting 18 on eight field goals and a pair of fouls. Dave Bass came through with 13. The defeat gave the local reservists a 7-3 season slate and a two - game losing streak.

Booster Club Meet Set at Hanson Home

A special Booster Club committee meeting has been scheduled for 8 p. m. today in the home of Gene Hanson on Route 188 and Ridge-wood Drive.

The meeting was originally slated at Benny's Restaurant. The committee will convene for a further study of a proposed athletic facilities improvement project here.

Braves Bounce Bremen Team For Ninth Win

Logan Elm, with big Chuck Spangler and Dan Hicks hitting 16 points apiece, rolled at a steady clip to its ninth victory in 10 starts Saturday night, toppling visiting Bremen 61-50.

The Braves moved away to a 13-7 advantage at the end of the first quarter and held a 25-16 halftime advantage. Hicks got in most of his licks at the opposition in the third stanza, blasting away for 12 counters as the Braves battered to a 46-27 margin.

Hicks and Spangler worked over the cords on outside jump shots and rebounds while Roger Clarke chipped in 11 on short jumpers. Ike Kelly paced Bremen with 19 tallies on eight field goals and three charity tosses. Snyder backed him up with 18.

In the reserve match Logan Elm wrapped up a 42-34 triumph.

Scioto Tames Cats, 85-68

Scioto defeated Jackson Saturday night, 85-68, as Lee Murphy and Bob Whiteside led the Buffaloes to their sixth win in eleven starts with 24 points each.

Murphy scored his on seven field goals and 10 of 11 charity tosses. Whiteside turned in a demon - like job on the boards as he pulled down 21 rebounds in addition to his 24 points. Alloy chipped in 15 and Albright scored 12.

The game started as a tight scoring battle with a 16-all tie at the end of the initial period. Scioto got hot in the second stanza, scoring 29 markers to take a 45-37 lead to the locker room at half time. The Buffaloes increased their advantage to 65-48 at the three quarter mark and maintained that margin to the end as both teams hit 20 points in the last stanza.

Beard scored 20 points to pace the Wildcats. Ronnie Clifton scored 12 and Maughmer and Martindale hit 10 each.

The Buffaloes gained a sweep for the evening by winning the reserve preliminary, 47-39.

Elks Notch 117 In BCL Match

Williamsport Trips Ashville Merchants

The Scioto Elks poured it on with no holds barred yesterday, placing six men in double figure scoring as they dropped Jackson Twp., 117-66, in one of two Booster Basketball League tests in the National Guard Armory.

In the other match Williamsport made a big second half do the job, dropping Ashville's Merchants, 74-55, after being down 29-26 at the intermission.

Lewis showed the way for the Elks with 35 counters on 17 field goals and one free throw. Taylor backed him with 21, Mickey had 16, B. Johnson 15, Hill 12 and C. Johnson rounded out the Scioto thrust with eight. In all the winners popped in a robust 57 field goals.

Jackson outscored the Elks 6-3 on charity tosses but could manage just 29 buckets. Eitel led the way for the losers with 22 tallies on 11 field goals. Beard had 16, Salyers produced 14, Thompson shot in seven and Brown came up with six.

SCOTO LED 40-25 after the opening period and swept onward to a 64-37 halftime advantage. At the end of the third stanza the score read 95-52.

Williamsport worked plus-nine-point performances from all five of its starters in going the victory route. Smith paced the winners with 21 tallies on nine baskets and three foul shots. Myers and Palmer chipped in 16 each, Jacobs hit 11 and Sell contributed 10.

Accord led Ashville with 19 markers. W. Myers slipped in 13, Miller had 12, Tedrow, eight and Fout, three. The Merchants led 11-10 after the initial canto and claimed a 29-26 halftime margin. But Williamsport struck back for 29 points in the third period for a 54-39 advantage and kept rolling.

In Wednesday bouts this week, the Top Hat - FOE crew tackles the Jaycee's at 7 p. m. and Deercreek matches shots with Jackson's Merchants at 8:15.

Louis Arroyo, Yankee relief ace, finished 54 games for the American League champions in 1961.

Junk Gets 31 As Blue Devils Trounce Darby

Keith Junk hit, Darvin Conley didn't — and that was about the story of The Plains 79-61 win Saturday night over home team Darby. The 6'2" Junk worked a shotgun variety of short jumps and layups for 31 points on 11 field goals and nine free throws to pace Mt. Sterling's sixth win in 10 attempts.

Conley, usually a ball of pinpoint scoring fire for the Trojans got the deep-freeze treatment from three Plains defenders and ended up with a meagre six tallies on three buckets. Charles Brown collected 25 counters to top Darby's attack. Paul Kreider contributed 12.

Gary Jones made it big for the Blue Devils with a 19-point showing. The Plains out-rebounded Darby 30-17.

In the reserve match Mr. Sterling clipped Darby 34-28 as Bano Starr dropped in 15 and Denny Morris hit 13 for the winners.

Tally Extremes Mark Opening Tourney Bouts

Jackson won by 23 points, Ashville sewated out a one-tally squeaker and Saltcreek and Pickaway turned in 10-marker victories in Saturday's opening round of the annual county junior high basketball tournament at Jackson Twp. School.

The hosts got off to a solid start against Darby and were never headed. Jackson held quarter leads of 15-6; 28-13; 36-16; and finished on top by a 48-25 count. Beard paced the winners with 19 while Darby's best was a seven-point showing by Fetherold.

Ashville had to struggle to outlast Scioto 29-28 as Wills connected for 11. Swank paced the losers with 11. Ashville led, 9-7, after the opening period and held a 15-13 halftime margin. The teams locked 20-all after three cantos.

Saltcreek, behind Speakman and Hatzos with 11 and 10 points, had little difficulty taming Monroe 37-20 despite a rugged third quarter which saw the losers take a 23-17 advantage as Saltcreek marked only four points.

THE SQUADS tied 13-13 at the half after Monroe had held an 8-5 early lead. Sheets paced the losers with 12 counters.

Pickaway was never threatened seriously by Walnut in wrapping up a 34-24 decision. Burger hit 14 and Reichelder had 12 for Pickaway. Cookson paced Walnut with seven. The winners held margins of 9-4; 17-12; and 29-16 through the first three periods.

Next tourney action is scheduled this Saturday in the Jackson gym with Pickaway facing Washington and Jackson doing battle with Atlanta at 8:15 p. m.

Whitey Ford accounted for nearly 23 per cent of the Yankees' 109 victories in 1961. He won 25 games.

SBC Set To Plan June Horse Show

Groundwork for a gala June horse show will be laid 8 p. m. Wednesday during a meeting of the Pickaway Saddle and Bridle Club in the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Club officials said work committees for the show will probably be appointed during a business session devoted almost entirely to planning the equine exhibition.

Tiny Tigers Ready For Western Game

Circleville's junior high cagers, spirits buoyed by a thrilling 33-32 victory last week over Chillothe Mt. Logan, invade Chillothe Western tomorrow afternoon in search of their sixth win of the season. Western is expected to provide some rough opposition for the Tiny Tigers, coach Paul Sarchet noted. The CHS freshmen get a breather tomorrow, laying out until Thursday when they lock horns with Lancaster Thomas Ewing in a hard-court twinbill in Fairfield County.

Chilli Romps in Second Half To Turn Back Tigers 83-66

By RON COFFMAN

The second half should never have come around as far as Circleville High School's Tigers were concerned Saturday night.

Coach Jack Weikert's Red and Black cage outfit, ahead 41-35 at intermission, skidded to their seventh defeat in 10 games as Chillicothe's Cavaliers brushed past them 83-66 on the strength of a 48-point spurge in the final two quarters.

Effects of rugged Friday night bouts told on both squads. Chillicothe, now 5-4 on the season, had sweated out a 68-59 decision over Lancaster's Golden Gales, Circleville was dog-tired after taking the measure of South Central Loop foe Pleasant View in a last-second thriller, 69-68.

The Cavaliers hit a cool 32 per cent from the floor, popping in 27 of 79 field goals. Circleville led in this column, collecting 25 of 67 for 37 per cent.

A 13-TALLY Chillicothe spread at the free throw line made most of the difference, though as coach Dick Dolan's charges made the nets hum with a robust 29 of 35 for 83 per cent. The Tigers produced but 16 of 26 for 62 per cent.

Spearheading the Chillicothe thrust was husky senior Willard Seekatz. The 6'1" pivot ace poured in all 10 of his charity tosses plus six baskets for 22 counters. Junior John Glanton hit 21 tallies on nine buckets and three of four shots while Jim Hess put in 15 and Dave Mischal notched 11.

About all the Bengals big scoring was confined to Dick Kline, who kept Circleville in the game through much of the opening with 14 of his 18 markers, including the Tiger's first four. Garold Dade, Jim Wellington and Freddie Moore ticked off nine apiece.

Center Sam Weller and forward Clesson Thomas, who accounted for 38 Tiger tallies against Chillicothe. Weller, ineffective under the boards, got only five and Thomas, eight.

A stubborn Cavalier defense got much of the credit for halting Circleville as most of the time the Tigers were forced to work hastily from far outside. Rarely did the home squad pose a serious threat on rebounding as Chillicothe's four plus-six-foot starters dominated the boards.

But all in all, the winners simply had the horses to bounce back in the third and fourth periods. Circleville did not.

IN A sluggish initial quarter which produced six ties and a lot of loose play the Tigers broke away near the end on two-pointers by Dade, Thomas and Wellington plus a foul shot to hold a 22-15 margin entering the second stanza.

Wellington and Dade, working the guard posts, maintained a steady pressure on the Chillicothe outside men that broke up most of the Cavalier's early tally tries. On six occasions early in the second quarter Chillicothe surrendered the ball on bad passes, most of them aimed toward the inner-key area.

At the period's halfway point Kline upped the Circleville advantage to 30-23 on a layup accomplished with the greatest of ease after a long pass put him a half-court ahead of his nearest defender. Dade tried the same thing seconds later and netted two foul successes and a nine-point Tiger lead for his efforts.

Chillicothe couldn't get rolling and Seekatz was still cold as the half ended with the hosts 41-35 to the good.

Then what shouldn't have happened did.

A long jumper by Seekatz boosted Chillicothe to a 46-45 lead with 3:20 to go in the third canto as the Tigers mustered only four points through half a quarter marked by much shooting and little success. Thomas picked up his fourth personal foul as Seekatz shot the Ross Countian's lead to 47-45.

DAVE HANNAHS, getting his first scoring opportunity of the night, evened the count as 50 - all with a quick layup in the last 40 seconds and Moore got in a short jump at the buzzer to prop up Circleville's sagging fortunes, 53-52, going into the wrapup eight minutes.

From then on, though, it was the Cavaliers all the way. Seekatz and Glanton took turns shoving the Chilly victory margin upward as Circleville registered but two points - a rebound tip by Kline - in the first three minutes. Wellington fouled out as Seekatz pushed through two charity tosses to make it 70-57 for the winners at the four-minute mark.

Moore, developing a reputation as a professional hardcourt thief, stole the ball and passed off to Dade for the Tiger's only tally while Chillicothe was making it 76-59. Thomas took to the bench via the five-foot route, too as the score went to 80-60.

Against a whole new unit of subs, Circleville outscored their guests 6-3 in the last two minutes. Next varsity action for the Tigers is an SCOL test Friday at Hillsboro.

The Bengal reserves failed to fare much better, dropping behind after staying within two points of the Cavaliers most of the way to lose by nine, 56-47.

Campbell stripped the nets for 23 counters, tops for Chillicothe. Tom Smith notched another capable performance for the Tigers, hitting 18 on eight field goals and a pair of fouls. Dave Bass came through with 13. The defeat gave the local reservists a 7-3 season slate and a two - game losing streak.

Braves Bounce Bremen Team For Ninth Win

Logan Elm, with big Chuck Spangler and Dan Hicks hitting 20 points apiece, rolled at a steady clip to its ninth victory in 10 starts Saturday night, topping visiting Bremen 61-50.

The Braves moved away to a 13-7 advantage at the end of the first quarter and held a 25-16 halftime advantage. Hicks got in most of his licks at the opposition in the third stanza, blasting away for 12 counters as the Braves battered to a 46-27 margin.

Hicks and Spangler worked over the cords on outside jump shots and rebounds while Roger Clarke chipped in 11 on short jumpers. Ike Kelly paced Bremen with 19 tallies on eight field goals and three charity tosses. Snyder backed him up with 18.

In the reserve match Logan Elm wrapped up a 42-34 triumph.

Elks Notch 117 In BCL Match

Williamsport Trips Ashville Merchants

The Scioto Elks poured it on with no holds barred yesterday, placing six men in double figure scoring as they dropped Jackson Twp., 117-66, in one of two Booster Basketball League tests in the National Guard Armory.

In the other match Williamsport made a big second half do the job, dropping Ashville's Merchants, 74-55, after being down 29-26 at the intermission.

Lewis showed the way for the Elks with 35 counters on 17 field goals and one free throw. Taylor backed him with 21, Mickey had 16, B. Johnson 15, Hill 12 and C. Johnson rounded out the Scioto thrust with eight. In all the winners popped in a robust 57 field goals.

Jackson outscored the Elks 6-3 on charity tosses but could manage just 29 buckets. Eitel led the way for the losers with 22 tallies on 11 field goals. Beard had 16, Salyers produced 14, Thompson shot in seven and Brown came up with six.

Junk Gets 31 As Blue Devils Trounce Darby

Keith Junk hit, Darvin Conley didn't - and that was about the story of The Plains 79-61 win Saturday night over home team Darby. The 6'2" Junk worked a shotgun variety of short jumps and layups for 31 points on 11 field goals and nine free throws to pace Mt. Sterling's sixth win in 10 attempts.

Conley, usually a ball of pinpoint scoring fire for the Trojans got the deep-freeze treatment from three Plains defenders and ended up with a meagre six tallies on three buckets. Charles Brown collected 25 counters to top Darby's attack. Paul Kreider contributed 12.

Gary Jones made it big for the Blue Devils with a 19-point showing. The Plains out-rebounded Darby 30-17.

In the reserve match Mr. Sterling clipped Darby 34-28 as Bano Starr dropped in 15 and Denny Morris hit 13 for the winners.

Tally Extremes Mark Opening Tournery Bouts

Jackson won by 23 points, Ashville sewated out a one-tally squeaker and Saltcreek and Pickaway turned in 10-marker victories in Saturday's opening round of the annual county junior high basketball tournament at Jackson Twp. School.

The hosts got off to a solid start against Darby and were never headed. Jackson held quarter leads of 15-6; 28-13; 36-16; and finished on top by a 48-25 count. Beard paced the winners with 19 while Darby's best was a seven-point showing by Fetherold.

Ashville had to struggle to outlast Scioto 29-23 as Wills connected for 11. Swank paced the losers with 11. Ashville led, 9-7, after the opening period and held a 15-13 halftime margin. The teams locked 20-all after three cantos.

Saltcreek, behind Speakman and Hatzow with 11 and 10 points, had little difficulty taming Monroe 37-27 despite a rugged third quarter which saw the losers take a 23-17 advantage as Saltcreek marked only four points.

THE SQUADS tied 13-13 at the half after Monroe had held an 8-5 early lead. Sheets paced the losers with 12 counters.

Pickaway was never threatened seriously by Walnut in wrapping up a 34-24 decision. Burger hit 14 and Reichelder had 12 for Pickaway. Cookson paced Walnut with seven. The winners held margins of 9-4; 17-12; and 29-16 through the first three periods.

Next tournery action is scheduled this Saturday in the Jackson gym with Pickaway facing Washington and Jackson doing battle with Atlanta at 8:15 p. m.

Whitey Ford accounted for nearly 23 per cent of the Yankees' 109 victories in 1961. He won 25 games.

Trucker To Lead U.S. Ski Team

WESTBY, Wis. (AP)—A high-flying truck driver, who overcame a bad start to soar to a North American ski jumping record, will lead the United States team when it goes to Poland in quest of world honors next month.

John Balfanz, 21, of Minneapolis, leaped 317 feet—a foot over the old mark—in claiming his record Sunday and taking the top place on the four-man U.S. team. It will compete in the world ski jumping meet at Zakopane, Poland, Feb. 18-25.

Others on the team, in their jumping order, will be Robert Keck of Oconomowoc, Wis.; Steve Reischl of Steamboat Springs, Colo., and Jim Brennan of Edmonds, Wash.

Jacobs Leads Pros To Crosby Test

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—There's nothing like money to boost a golfer's morale, so it was a happy Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., who led the way today to the Bing Crosby clambake after winning the $25,000-San Diego Open.

Jacobs, whose last good win was at Denver in 1958, pocketed $3,500 as the winner of a dramatic sudden death playoff with another young tournament pro, Johnny Pott of Ocean Springs, Miss.

Both are 26, both are ex-collegians—Jacobs from Southern California, Pott from Louisiana State.

Jacobs shot a final-round 65, six under par for 277, and finished early. Pott, in a better position at the start of the day, scored 69 for 277.

Wilt Nets 135 Points In 17-Hour Interval

BOSTON (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, the human scoring machine, is playing the best basketball of his record-smashing career. The opinion is unanimous.

The Philadelphia Warrior giant tallied 135 points in less than 17 hours during a busy National Basketball Association weekend.

Chamberlain bettered the regulation game mark with 73 points against Chicago Saturday night in a 135-117 victory.

Fullmer Sets His Sights on Aging Archie

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Fullmer today set his sights squarely on ol' Archie Moore's New York-Massachusetts-European version of the world light heavyweight championship—with one important reservation.

"I would like to meet Archie for the title any time," said Fullmer, himself the world — National Boxing Association version — middle-weight champion. "But I won't fight him if he wants all the money."

"I have heard of some of his demands before he has signed contracts. My days as an amateur are over. I want part of the purse."

Fullmer, who comes from West Jordan, Utah, was honored Sunday night as "Fighter of the Year" by the New York Boxing Writers Association at the organization's 36th annual dinner.

"I think Archie is about ready to be taken," said Fullmer, "and I think I am the man to take him."

His manager, Marv Jensen, nodded agreement.

"I really would like to get the middleweight thing straightened out before I go after the light heavies," said Fullmer. "I'd fight Terry Downes (New York-Massachusetts champion) or Paul Pender (who is scheduled to fight Downes) anytime."

"But," he shrugged, "it looks like neither one of them want to fight me and I'm getting tired of waiting."

Ohio All-Star Games Given Survival Nod

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association has given Ohio's annual North-South high school football and basketball games another chance for survival.

The NCAA, by a 159-35 vote, empowered its council to designate a committee to act in cases where state associations refuse to accept jurisdiction over such games.

Last year the NCAA declared that any boy participating in post-season all-star games would lose a year of collegiate eligibility unless the game was approved by the state scholastic association.

The Ohio High School Athletic Association then adopted a hands-off attitude toward the games, saying it had no jurisdiction over them because the participating boys had already graduated.

The NCAA's action, taken Saturday at its annual convention in Chicago, was construed to mean the committee would act favorably on any pleas for all-star game approval. The reasoning was that there would be no need for the committee if approval of such games were to be denied.

The Ohio High School Football Coaches Association, which sponsors the grid game in cooperation with a Canton group, had never given up hope that the 15-year series would be continued. Directors of the association met in Columbus Dec. 1-2 and picked coaches and players for 529 25-man squads for the event scheduled for mid-August in Canton.

Kansas City Wears Pro Cage Crown

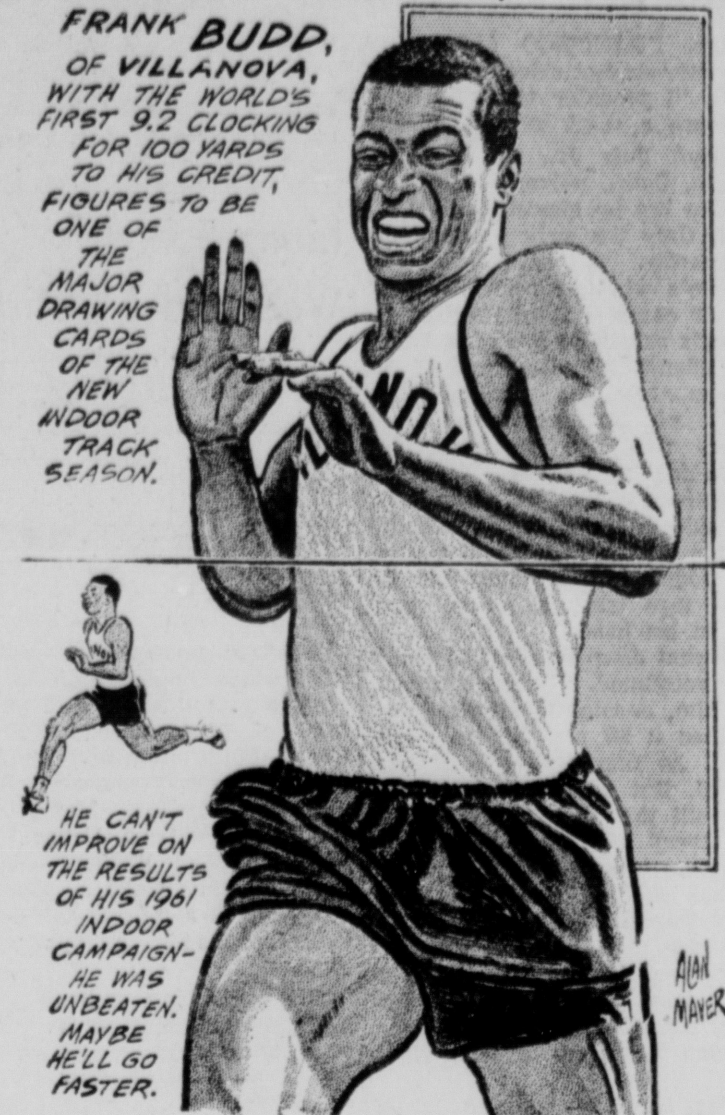

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Kansas City Steers go into the second half of the American Basketball League campaign today wearing the title of champions.

The Steers won the first-half title in a playoff over the weekend, defeating the Cleveland Pipers two games to one. The title guarantees Kansas City a spot in the playoffs at the end of the season, although it looks as though no special pass will be necessary if the Steers keep on playing the way they have been.

Jack Adams of Cleveland led in scoring with 30 points, all but seven in the first half. Larry Siegfried assumed the Cleveland

Vandals Ransack 10 School Classrooms

CLEVELAND (AP) — Classes were cancelled for today at Assumption School because of extensive damage inflicted by vandals over the weekend.

The vandals hit 10 of the 12 classrooms, ransacking and overturning desks, damaging equipment, breaking windows and splashing mimeograph ink on supplies.

scoring burden in the second half, when he scored all 26 of his points.

West Pro '11 Wins Thriller

Jim Brown's Fumble Leads to Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The West emerged from the 1962 Pro Bowl, one of the wildest ever, with a 31-30 victory—but it took a combination of triumph and tragedy to overturn the underdog East.

The National Football League's postseason thriller was witnessed Sunday by 57,409 coliseum fans and a national television audience of millions.

There was a 12-yard touchdown pass by Johnny Unitas to Jon Arnett in the last two seconds, a last-minute fumble by the East's Jim Brown that paved the way for the final West score, and a blocked conversion attempt in the third period.

After it was over, Brown — named the most valuable player — said he felt more like a goat.

With five minutes left, the brilliant Cleveland fullback shook off four tacklers and bulldozed 70 yards to a touchdown, giving the East a 30-24 edge.

Then on a routine running play with slightly more than a minute left, Brown fumbled. Chicago's Bill George, who pried the ball loose from Brown, recovered it.

With a minute left and the ball on the East's 41, Unitas went to work. The Baltimore star passed for 15 yards to rookie Mike Ditka of Chicago and 14 yards to Colt teammate Lenny Moore. With 15 seconds left, a Unitas pass to Moore fell incomplete.

As the seconds ticked away, Unitas faded, barely eluding the grasp of New York's Andy Robustelli. Rolling to his left, the quarterback spotted elusive Los Angeles halfback Jon Arnett alone in the end zone and tossed him a perfect strike.

Jim Martin of Detroit kicked the winning conversion, his fourth of the day. Martin also bonked a 27-yard field goal in the second period.

United Grid League Votes To Expand

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A weekend meeting of representatives of the United Football League resulted in the young professional conference being expanded to nine teams and a 10th is expected to be added at a meeting next month.

The newest addition to the league will be Chicago. League Commissioner George T. Gareff said he expects either Harrisburg, Pa., or Hershey, Pa., to be added to the next meeting in Akron.

North Carolina basketball players, are president and vice president, respectively, of their junior class. Vinroot defeated Joe Craver, More-from ages 18 to 52 Prepare now for U. S. Civil Service job openings in this area during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay as high as $446.00 a month to start. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service helps thousands prepare for these tests every year. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

Ohio All-Star Games Given Survival Nod

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association has given Ohio's annual North-South high school football and basketball games another chance for survival.

The NCAA, by a 159-35 vote, empowered its council to designate a committee to act in cases where state associations refuse to accept jurisdiction over such games.

Last year the NCAA declared that any boy participating in post-season all-star games would lose a year of collegiate eligibility unless the game was approved by the state scholastic association.

The Ohio High School Athletic Association then adopted a hands-off attitude toward the games, saying it had no jurisdiction over them because the participating boys had already graduated.

The NCAA's action, taken Saturday at its annual convention in Chicago, was construed to mean the committee would act favorably on any pleas for all-star game approval. The reasoning was that there would be no need for the committee if approval of such games were to be denied.

The Ohio High School Football Coaches Association, which sponsors the grid game in cooperation with a Canton group, had never given up hope that the 15-year series would be continued. Directors of the association met in Columbus Dec. 1 - 2 and picked coaches and players for 529 25-man squads for the event scheduled for mid-August in Canton.

Kansas City Wears Pro Cage Crown

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Kansas City Steers go into the second half of the American Basketball League campaign today wearing the title of champions.

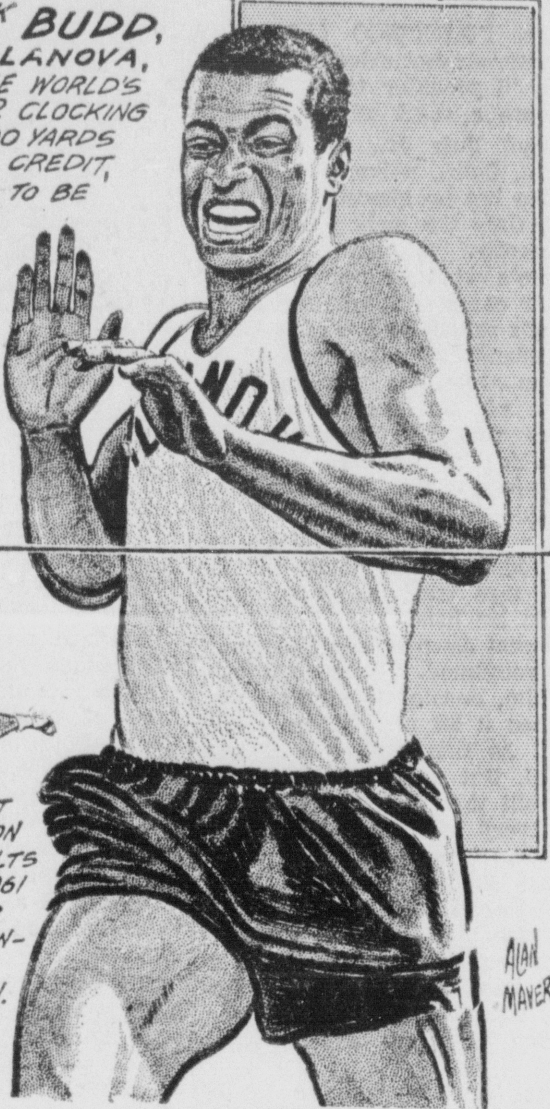

The Steers won the first-half title in a playoff over the weekend, defeating the Cleveland Pipers two games to one. The title guarantees Kansas City a spot in the playoffs at the end of the season, although it looks as though no special pass will be necessary if the Steers keep on playing the way they have been.

Jack Adams of Cleveland led in scoring with 30 points, all but seven in the first half. Larry Siegfried assumed the Cleveland

Vandals Ransack 10 School Classrooms

CLEVELAND (AP) — Classes were cancelled for today at Assumption School because of extensive damage inflicted by vandals over the weekend.

The vandals hit 10 of the 12 classrooms, ransacking and overturning desks, damaging equipment, breaking windows and splashing mimeograph ink on supplies.

West Pro '11' Wins Thriller

Jim Brown's Fumble Leads to Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The West emerged from the 1962 Pro Bowl, one of the wildest ever, with a 31-30 victory—but it took a combination of triumph and tragedy to overturn the underdog East.

The National Football League's post-season thriller was witnessed Sunday by 57,409 coliseum fans and a national television audience of millions.

There was a 12-yard touchdown pass by Johnny Unitas to Jon Arnett in the last two seconds, a last-minute fumble by the East's Jim Brown that paved the way for the final West score, and a blocked conversion attempt in the third period.

After it was over, Brown — named the most valuable player — said he felt more like a goat.

With five minutes left, the brilliant Cleveland fullback shook off four tacklers and bulldozed 70 yards to a touchdown, giving the East a 30-24 edge.

Then on a routine running play with slightly more than a minute left, Brown fumbled. Chicago's Bill George, who pried the ball loose from Brown, recovered it.

With a minute left and the ball on the East's 41, Unitas went to work. The Baltimore star passed for 15 yards to rookie Mike Ditka of Chicago and 14 yards to Colt teammate Lenny Moore. With 15 seconds left, a Unitas pass to Moore fell incomplete.

As the seconds ticked away, Unitas faded, barely eluding the grasp of New York's Andy Robustelli. Rolling to his left, the quarterback snatched elusive Los Angeles halfback Jon Arnett alone in the end zone and tossed him a perfect strike.

Jim Martin of Detroit kicked the winning conversion, his fourth of the day. Martin also booted a 27-yard field goal in the second period.

United Grid League Votes To Expand

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A weekend meeting of representatives of the United Football League resulted in the young professional conference being expanded to nine teams and a 10th is expected to be added at a meeting next month.

The newest addition to the league will be Chicago. League Commissioner George T. Gareff said he expects either Harrisburg, Pa., or Hershey, Pa., to be added to the next meeting in Akron.

North Carolina basketball players, are president and vice president, respectively, of their junior class. Vinroot defeated Joe Craver, More-

Rader, Plum Named to New Posts at 3rd National Bank

M. E. NOGGLE

Several administrative changes at the Third National Bank, 107 W. Main St., were announced by officials Saturday.

Robert Rader, 313 Watt St., has been named new executive vice president of the bank. Richard Plum, 610 Ridgewood Drive, will assume the post of president of the institution.

Rader, previously cashier at the bank, succeeds M. E. (Mac) Noggle, 149 W. Union St. Plum will fill the position formerly held by Judge William D. Radcliff, Ridgewood Drive.

David Hoffman, Route 4, was elevated to the post of assistant cashier after previously serving as a teller. Rader will retain the cashier's job.

Judge Radcliff, relinquishing the presidency in order to devote more time to his candidacy for a Fourth District Court of Appeals judgeship, will remain as chairman of the board of directors.

No changes were made on the board of directors. Continuing their service, along with Judge Radcliff, are Leland E. Pontius (vice president), Charles H. May, Phil E. Smith and Robert N. Call.

Rader, a graduate of the local high school, has been with the Third National since 1922.

Noggle, a veteran banker, has been associated with Third National since 1911 and will continue his employment at the institution. He is noted here as a Pickaway County historian and has gained a wide reputation in the flower garden world.

Plum, in the insurance business here for 22 years, is a graduate of Circleville High School and the class of 1940 at Miami University. He is a member of Rotary, the Masonic Order, Knights of Pythias, BPO Elks, American Legion, Chamber of Commerce and the Methodist Church.

The new president has four sons and is active in the Little League baseball organization here. He also is a past president of the Pickaway Cancer Society.

Employees of the bank are Mrs. Evelyn Carter, Miss Maxine Poling and Mrs. Helen Dawson, all tellers, and Mary Bosworth, Ruth Allison, Linda Davis, Fern Congrove and Naomi Carley, all in the bookkeeping department.

Judge Herbert Fair
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Judge Thomas J. Herbert of the Ohio Supreme Court was reported improving and in fair condition at Grant Hospital today.

The 67-year-old former governor suffered a seizure late Friday night, apparently the result of a stroke he had last March. He had been in poor condition until late Sunday night when authorities announced the improvement.

N&W Merger Hearing To Be Resumed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hearing on merger plans of the Norfolk & Western Railway resumes today before examiner Lester R. Conley of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Since the hearing recessed in December, the N & W has added the Akron, Canton & Youngstown Railroad Co. to its plans.

Other railroads involved in the merger proposal are the Nickel Plate, the Wabash, and the Sandusky line of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

N&W's application to acquire AC&Y is contingent upon ICC approval of the merger proposal and upon acceptance of the purchase offer by 80 per cent of AC&Y stockholders.

Control would be through a $6.5 million purchase of all outstanding AC&Y stock. The N&W proposal is a followup to AC&Y's earlier agreement to withdraw its petition to the ICC asking that it be included in the consolidation plans.

The purchase offer has been approved by the AC&Y board of directors. The board has recommended that stockholders accept the offer.

The AC&Y runs between Delphos and Mogadore, Ohio, over 229 miles of track, all within Ohio.

CHS Grapplers Edge Top 3, Take Whitehall Tourney Title

Last year Whitehall, Upper Arlington and Worthington finished ahead of Circleville in the top-four standings of central district wrestling competition.

As of late Saturday afternoon, though, this order was reversed as coach John Current's scrappy Tiger grapplers walked off with the Whitehall Invitational Tournament crown. And the teams they bested to take the trophy were — Whitehall, Upper Arlington and Worthington.

It was not an easy victory for Circleville. The Tigers trailed by eight points going into the finals as Worthington and Whitehall battled for the lead. With all but third place in the heavyweight division determined Worthington had crept to a slight advantage.

But dependable Vern Reichmanis, 250 pounds of skill and spunk, decisioned Upper Arlington's Leonard in an overtime tussle to give the Tigers 71 tallies, one better than Whitehall and Worthington, tied for runnerup honors at 70 each.

UPPER Arlington finished on the bottom with a total of 49 counters.

Thunderous applause and a standing cheer greeted the grapplers when they returned home with their prize at the halftime of the Tiger-Chillcothe cage game here.

In special ceremonies team member Tim Mogan presented CHS Principal Richard Snouffer with the championship trophy.

Champions by weight classes for the victorious Tigers were: 129 — Tim Mogan; 135 — Tom Bivens; 155 — Tom Moore. Jack Cook gained third place in the 114 category. Dave Troutman was second in 122. Dever Jolly placed in the runnerup spot in 140. Ray Taylor was second in 147 and Duke Fyffe ended with second in 177. Others in the lineup for Circleville were Terry Kiefer in 105 and Leroy Hagen in the 166 match. Coach Current praised the "outstanding job" turned in by his varsity crew. And few cheering them on their return would disagree.

Next action for the Tigers will be in the Pleasant View Invitational this Saturday. After that they return home to face traditionally tough Dayton Fairmont Jan. 27.

Berger Treats Minor Injuries

A 61-year-old Circleville woman who ran a sewing machine needle into her thumb headed the list of emergencies treated by Berger Hospital during the weekend.

Mrs. Phoebe Brown, 403 E. Mound St., was treated for a puncture wound in her right thumb following the accident in her home.

Wray Herdman, 24, of 433 Warren Ave., Washington C. H., caught his finger between the steering wheel and dashboard of his car at the Container Corp. of America. He received treatment for a contusion of the left middle finger.

William Hoffman, 75, Route 2, fell while working outside at his home. He was treated for a laceration of the scalp.

John O'Hara, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Hara, 344 E. Main St., struck his right arm on a door at his home. He received treatment for a laceration of the left elbow.

Skindiver's Joke about Fate Almost Turns Out To Be True

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A brawny, six-foot skindiver told his wife, "I probably won't be back. I figure a shark will get me."

Floyd Pair Jr., 29, a Sacramento, Calif., milkman said it was a joke but he almost foretold his fate. Only the ending turned out differently.

Here's what happened Sunday: Pair came to San Francisco for a day's skindiving near the Farallon Islands 25 miles west of the Golden Gate. He was one of a party of 100 Sacramento area divers who had chartered four boats for the purpose.

At about 11 a.m. Pair went over the side of the boat, New Merrimac, a black skin suit taut against his body, oxygen tanks on his back, face mask in place, spear gun in his hand.

"I went down to about 40 feet," Pair recounted. "I chased a fish, lost him, decided to surface."

"Then it hit me, just as I surfaced. At first I thought it was a seal. But a seal doesn't have a mouth that big. It was brown, and every inch of 14 feet long. It hit me from the right side and started shaking me like a dog plays with a bone."

"I saw that it was a shark. I remember thinking first that it didn't hurt. Then I half remembered something I had read by a German deep sea expert, Hans Hass."

"Hass said to make a lot of noise and hit an attacking shark in the face."

"I spit out my breathing mouthpiece, began yelling, 'Shark! Shark!' at the same time I began jabbing at the shark's snout with my spear. He let loose of me and took off."

Two other divers helped Pair back to the New Merrimac. In minutes the water was cleared of other divers. A helicopter was called and took Pair to San Francisco's Franklin Hospital.

"On the boat they wanted to cut off my suit and look at the wounds," Pair said. "But I felt I needed that tight suit to keep whatever blood I still had in me."

Doctors described Pair's wounds as serious but not crippling. He suffered gaping leg wounds and a deep bite into a buttock.

A doctor said Pair's femoral artery just missed being severed. "If that had gone, he's have gone too."

Lions Schedule Weekend Meeting

A mid-winter conference will be held Saturday and Sunday at the Southern Hotel, Columbus, by the Lions of Ohio Council of Governors.

Special guest speaker for the two-day session will be Tris Coffin of Montreal, Quebec. He will deliver an address at a banquet scheduled for 6:30 p. m. Saturday.

Meetings scheduled for Sunday will include the International Convention committee at 9 a. m. followed at 10 a. m. by the Braille Board, Constitution and By-Laws, Eye Research Foundation, International Relations, Membership, Public Relations, Urban Workshop and Blind Welfare committees. The Blind Welfare committee has planned a tour of the Ohio School for the blind as a part of the agenda.

The opening business session of the weekend meet is set for 4 p. m. Saturday.

Latin was not the original speech of Italy, but of central Latium. It is believed to have developed in the 5th century BC.

ON RESCUE FLIGHT—Representing the Dutch Red Cross, this specially trained rescue dog and his owner, Josef Toman, stop off in New York en route to Lima, Peru, from Amsterdam. N&W Merger Hearing To Be Resumed
WASHINGTON (AP)—A hearing on merger plans of the Norfolk & Western Railway resumes today before examiner Lester R. Conley of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Since the hearing recessed in December, the N & W has added the Akron, Canton & Youngstown Railroad Co. to its plans.

Other railroads involved in the merger proposal are the Nickel Plate, the Wabash, and the Sandusky line of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

N&W's application to acquire AC&Y is contingent upon ICC approval of the merger proposal and upon acceptance of the purchase offer by 80 per cent of AC&Y stockholders.

Control would be through a $6.5 million purchase of all outstanding AC&Y stock. The N&W proposal is a followup to AC&Y's earlier agreement to withdraw its petition to the ICC asking that it be included in the consolidation plans.

The purchase offer has been approved by the AC&Y board of directors. The board has recommended that stockholders accept the offer.

The AC&Y runs between Delphos and Mogadore, Ohio, over 229 miles of track, all within Ohio.

8 NYC Passenger Cars Derailed near Archbold
BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—Investigators sought the cause today in the derailment of eight cars of a New York Central passenger train east of here Saturday night in which five persons were injured.

The eight cars which derailed at the end of the 15-car train remained upright. Some 4,000 feet of track were damaged. The Central's main line was closed for several hours near the west edge of Archbold in Fulton County.

Upper Arlington finished on the bottom with a total of 49 counts.

Thunderous applause and a standing cheer greeted the grapplers when they returned home with their prize at the halftime of the Tiger-Chilliothe cage game here. In special ceremonies team member Tim Mogan presented CHS Principal Richard Snouffer with the championship trophy.

Champions by weight classes for the victorious Tigers were: 129 — Tim Mogan; 135 — Tom Bivens; 156 — Tom Moore. Jack Cook gained third place in the 114 category. Dave Troutman was second in 122. Dever Jolly placed in the runnerup spot in 140. Ray Taylor was second in 147 and Duke

IT'S COLD ENOUGH FOR A PENGUIN—At long last, the thermometer at the Portland, Oregon, Zoo, approximates that of the icy Arctic area from which this penguin was taken. While seeming to be strutting in a winter wonderland, the bird is unhappy because ice has trapped him and his pals from pen.

CHS Grapplers Edge Top 3, Take Whitehall Tourney Title

Last year Whitehall, Upper Arlington and Worthington finished ahead of Circleville in the top-four standings of central district wrestling competition.

As of late Saturday afternoon, though, this order was reversed as coach John Current's scrappy Tiger grapplers walked off with the Whitehall Invitational Tournament crown. And the teams they bested to take the trophy were — Whitehall, Upper Arlington and Worthington.

It was not an easy victory for Circleville. The Tigers trailed by eight points going into the finals as Worthington and Whitehall battled for the lead. With all but third place in the heavyweight division determined Worthington had crept to a slight advantage.

But dependable Vern Reichman, 250 pounds of skill and spunk, decided Upper Arlington's Leonard in an overtime tussle to give the Tigers 71 tallies, one better than Whitehall and Worthington, tied for runnerup honors at 70 each.

UPPER Arlington finished on the bottom with a total of 49 counts.

Wray Herdman, 24, of 433 Warren Ave., Washington C. H., caught his finger between the steering wheel and dashboard of his car at the Container Corp. of America. He received treatment for a contusion of the left middle finger.

William Hoffman, 75, Route 2, fell while working outside at his home. He was treated for a laceration of the scalp.

John O'Hara, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Hara, 344 E. Main St., struck his right arm on a door at his home. He received treatment for a laceration of the left elbow.

Skindiver's Joke about Fate Almost Turns Out To Be True

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A brawny, six-foot skindiver told his wife, "I probably won't be back. I figure a shark will get me."

Floyd Pair Jr., 29, a Sacramento, Calif., milkman said it as a joke but he almost foretold his fate. Only the ending turned out differently.

Here's what happened Sunday: Pair came to San Francisco for a day's skindiving near the Farallon Islands 25 miles west of the Golden Gate. He was one of a party of 100 Sacramento area divers who had chartered four boats for the purpose.

At about 11 a.m. Pair went over the side of the boat, New Merrimac, a black skin suit taut against his body, oxygen tanks on his back, face mask in place, spear gun in his hand.

"I went down to about 40 feet," Pair recounted. "I chased a fish, lost him, decided to surface."

"Then it hit me, just as I surfaced. At first I thought it was a seal. But a seal doesn't have a mouth that big. It was brown, and every inch of 14 feet long. It hit me from the right side and started shaking me like a dog plays with a bone."

"I saw that it was a shark. I remember thinking first that it didn't hurt. Then I half remembered something I had read by a German deep sea expert, Hans Hass.

"Hass said to make a lot of noise and hit an attacking shark in the face."

"I spit out my breathing mouth-piece, began yelling, 'Shark! Shark!' at the same time I began jabbing at the shark's snout with my spear. He let loose of me and took off."

Two other divers helped Pair back to the New Merrimac. In minutes the water was cleared of other divers. A helicopter was called and took Pair to San Francisco's Franklin Hospital.

"On the boat they wanted to cut off my suit and look at the wounds," Pair said. "But I felt I needed that tight suit to keep whatever blood I still had in me."

Doctors described Pair's wounds as serious but not crippling. He suffered gaping leg wounds and
